Ruhr Mines and German Forests French Price For Reparation Delay

BAR LE DUC, France.—By the Associated Press. — France will not consent to a moratorium of any character to Germany unless the German state mines of the Ruhr and the national forests are placed in the hands of the allies as a guarantee, and no matter what happens France will not depart from this policy.

Such was the position of the French government with regard to the reparations question, as outlined Monday afternoon by Premier Poincare at the opening session of the general council of the department of the Meuse.

No Desire to Ruin Germany

The premier disclaimed any desire on the part of France to ruin Germany under the guise of a demand for productive guarantees.

"The day Germany recognizes loyally her obligations towards France and carries them out with good grace," declared M. Poincare, "we will not refuse to examine with her the best methods of assuring the prompt and regular execution of the treaty of Versailles."

"Contrary to certain British spokesmen," continued the head of the French cabinet, "we are neither Neros, nor even Bismarcks. We are simply a good people who are brutally attacked and whose native soil was ravaged. All we ask is the opportunity to continue in peace our daily tasks.

"We are greatly disposed to aid other nations in the effort to restore the world.

Must Have Ruins Rebuilt

"We know the world does not end at our frontiers. We welcome a broad and generous European policy. We fervently desire to remain allies of our allies and friends of our friends. We ask nothing better than to resume with our enemies of yesterday, pleasant and courteous relations. But we wish to have our ruins repaired—and they will be."

Premier Poincare ridiculed recent charges in certain German circles that France sought to enslave the German people in revenge for the devastation wrought during the war.

"If contrary to our desires we are forced to take independent action without the approval of our allies," he continued, "we shall make no effort to retain indefinitely the guarantees which we may take. We shall guard these guarantees in the interest of all and only until Germany consents to meet her just obligations."

FOSTER'S OFFICE IN CHICAGO IS RAIDED AFTER RAIL WRECK

Papers Giving Alleged List of Radicals Found in Trade Educational Headquarters

"ONE BIG UNION" PROPAGANDA AMONG RAILROAD WORKERS

Raid Follows Investigation Following Michigan Central Wreck

CHICAGO, Ill.—Investigation of the Trade Union Educational league, headed by W. Z. Foster, who conducted the 1919 steel strike, was ended Monday afternoon, so far as the state's attorney's office was concerned, Assistant State's Attorney W. F. McLaughlin announced. Investigation of the papers seized in the league's office in a raid disclosed no evidence that Foster has advocated violence in connection with the railroad strike or otherwise, Mr. McLaughlin said.

CHICAGO.—Offices of the Trades Union Educational league were raided and correspondence and private papers of William Z. Foster, head of the league, and one of the foremost radical leaders of America, were seized by State's Attorney Crowe and detectives late Sunday night following investigation into the wrecking of a Michigan Central train at Gary, ind., early Sunday and the discovery of two sticks of dynamite on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks.

Foster was said to be in Joliet, where it was reported a he spent several das after he was ordered out of Colorado by state authorities.

Examination of Foster's papers, the state's attorney said, bared a widespread "one big union" propaganda among railroad workers and gave valuable information concerning a systematic series of radical meetings in railroad centers.

Get Radical Leaders' Names

No arrests were made at the time of the raid but a long list of names of radical leaders was unearthed, Mr. Crowe announced.

The state's attorney's investigation began immediately after the report of the Michigan Central wreck at Gary was received here, along with the report by railroad officials that the train had been deliberately pitched by plotters, spikes were removed from ties and rails loosened, railroad officials said.

The express train, the engineer and fireman of which were killed when engine and cars piled up in the sand, was running five hours late and an hour ahead of one of the fastest New York-Chicago limiteds. It was believed the plotters planned to wreck the passenger train.

The raid on Foster's headquarters was planned after hurried communications with authorities in other rail centers where disorders have occurred and where meetings of railroad men have been addressed by radical leaders.

Foster Addressed Many Meetings

Reports of a dozen meetings addressed by Foster in cities of the middle west were received, the state's attorney said.

From Chicago Foster was said to have gone to Joliet, where Sheriff Newkirk was wounded and two men killed in a rail strike riot two weeks ago.

In a memorandum book labeled "Credentials List," were listed among others: Joseph E. Jones of the united mine workers of Christopher, Ill.; E. Curtis Ekenhans of the jewelers' union, of Hamilton, Ill.; J. K. England of Moline, Ill.; who was among the communists convicted with William Bross Lloyd, wealthy leader of the communist party; Hulet M. Wells, well-known labor leader of Seattle, Washa..

"There will be more action," said State's Atorney Crowe, discussing the mass of evidence seized in the raid.

Lots of I. W. W. Strikers

CHICAGO, Ill.—Many members of the Industrial Workers of the World are numbered among the railroad strikers, and a number of them "have demonstrated their objection to military despotism by quitting their jobs," according to a statement of Martin Carlson, general secretary of the Railroad Workers' Industrial union, a part of the I. W. W. organization, according to an announcement by the general defense committee Monday. Carlson's statement was called forth by recent statements of Attorney General Daugherty that he believed there was a relation between the railroad strikes and the I. W. W. and that there were "indications that the I. W. W.'s are willing to take over some responsibility of railway transportation and even the government itself in the west.

"It is true, there are I. W. W. members among the railroad strikers in various centers who have demonstrated their objection to military despotism by quitting their jobs," Mr. Carlson was quoted by the defense committee. "There are I. W. W. members also among the men at work in other railroad departments, and they, too, would be out on strike if the majority of the workers in those departments had not been under the domination of their grand lodge officers."

Mr. Carlson was quoted as saying also that the I. W. W.'s were "willing

RESIDENTS ON CASS STREET HAVE BUSY SABBATH HELPING CARS OUT OF THE DEEP SAND

Half of the blue laws, several commandments and innumerable proprieties, particularly those pertaining to the sabbath day, were violated on Cass street between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets Sunday, as a result of 36 cars being stalled in the sand which marks the thoroughfare in that section since the street was torn up preparatory to paving.

Residents in that neighborhood and passing autoists and pedestrians had a busy time throughout the day and night, assisting drivers whose cars were stuck in the deep sand. Lame backs and sore joints were reported by many citizens today as a result of much pushing and digging to assist the stranded cars.

Nearly every kind of car from high-powered machines weighing two tons to light flivvers was stalled in this bad stretch of highway during the day and required first aid from the willing workers who chanced by during the trouble period.

To cap the climax, a wrecking machine, summoned to assist a heavy car out of the sand, also stalled in the soft earth, late in the evening.

The board of public works announced this morning that Cass street would be put in passable condition for the accommodation of residents in that locality who are compelled to use the street in driving to and from their homes. Other streets which have been torn up preliminary to the laying of paving also will be temporarily repaired so travel may continue over them.

HARDING COAL PROBE BILL TO GET UNDER WAY SOON; AUTHOR VISITS PRESIDENT

BRITISH ARE THREATENED BY CHANG TSO-LIN

Dictator of Manchuria Says He Won't Protect them Because they Have Flouted His Authority

TUCHUN ASSERTS THEY ARE AIDING HIS FOES

Declares they Have Assisted Wu Pei Fu in the Recent Civil War

PEKING.—By the Associated Press. —Grave alarm is felt by British subjects throughout Manchuria over the threat of Chang Tso-lin, governor of the province, to withhold his protection of British lives and property in reprisal for what he calls British contempt of his authority. Chang declares that Manchurians are contemplating a boycott of British business, and says he will not be responsible for action taken by the people if the present methods of British subjects in Manchuria continue.

The text of Chang's speech publicly attacking the Britons was published in Monday's newspapers.

Called in Americans

On August 12, it developed, Chang invited several American and British merchants to his headquarters in Mukden. There, in the presence of the Americans, he bitterly attacked the Britons. During the course of his speech, the Manchurian governor charged that Manchurian soldiers were killed with bombs hurled from British airplanes; that the British have been opposing his seizure of the railroad extending from Shan Hai-kuan to Mukden, but have not protested the capture of Peking by Wu Pei-fu, the northern military leader who defeated Chang and revived the old republican parliament, nor the seizure of the Hankow railroad by him; and that the British were opposing his seizure of the salt revenues of Manchuria, thus discriminating in favor of other Tuchuns who hold revenues.

Chang declared he intended to address a telegram to the king of England, complaining of the methods of the British subjects in Manchuria, saying "if the Britishers do not realize the nature of their conduct I must have recourse to telegraph their emperor and ask if their various actions are determined by the British government or the British minister."

No Reference to U. S.

In his speech Chang Tso-lin made no reference to the Americans. It is supposed that the Americans were invited merely to hear what Chang had to say.

This threat, coming from one of China's most powerful military governors, has created much concern in British circles in China. It is understood that the British legation here has instituted an investigation of the matter, preparatory to entering a protest.

MUTUAL LOSSES ARE EXPECTED TO FORCE HARD COAL PEACE

Both Sides in Straits and Peace Meeting is Expected to Get Results

MICHIGAN MINES RE-OPEN PENNA PRODUCTION IS LOW

Output of State for Last Week Falls off 100,000 Tons

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Representatives of authracite workers and operators assembled here again Monday in another effort to reconcile the differences between the two factions which have kept the hard coal mines idle since April 1. The meeting was scheduled for 4 p. m.

The same personnel of representatives present at last week's parleys were here for the session.

The mine workers were to sit in consultation in the morning, while the operators were to convene in a separate meeting.

Both Sides Losing

Aside from the personal interest in solving the problem out in the coal fields and in the city offices of the operators there has been a growing conviction that mines must be opened and men put to work to save both sides. With approximately 155,000 authracite workers in idleness millions of dollars in wages are being lost and mine property worth other millions is deteriorating.

National and state governmental influences are being exerted upon owners and operators to make every concession possible. Railroad interests have added their voices. Enough orders are reported to be on hand in the collieries to keep the miners producing more than the normal amount for months.

Significance was placed in the fact that mine union leaders and operators have arrived at a point in Saturday's session where terms of a possible contract were discussed. This was disclosed in the brief statement issued after the joint conference had adjourned, stating that the time of the meeting had been consumed in such discussion. This was taken as an indication that the issues which

TARIFF BILL CHANGES SO MANY PRINTERS FAIL TO GET IT DONE IN TIME

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS SUNDAY AFTERNOON AROUND LA CROSSE

No Serious Injuries Reported as Result of Series of Accidents Sunday

FORD CAR ROLLS OFF PIKE EMMA SCHULTZ IN HOSPITAL

George Stuesser's Car Goes Into Swamp; No Damage Done

SEVERAL auto accidents occurred in the city and the surrounding country over the week end. Miss Emma Schultz, 424 Johnson street, is confined to St. Francis hospital with minor injuries and bruises as a result of an accident in which the Ford car owned and driven by Harry Bakkem of Viroqua rolled off the La Crescent turnpike Sunday afternoon. The car turned over twice and lodged against a tree. Miss Schultz was riding in the front seat with the driver. In the rear seat were Kenneth Schwartz and Elsie Brichrich who escaped without injury. Bakkem had his knee skinned badly, but is able to be about.

George Stuesser, sign painter saw his Ford touring car go off the causeway into the swamp late Sunday afternoon. George was not in the car when it went over. The machine was not damaged, and half an hour after it had gone off the road it had been pulled out and George was chugging merrily up the street as though nothing had occured.

Reports were received at the Tribune office Monday that a motorcycle with a side car attached had collided with a Buick touring car on St. Joseph's Ridge and that the occupants of the motorcycle had been so seriously injured as to necessitate their removal to a hospital. A canvass of the hospitals of the city failed to locate them.

Sunday night two cars ran into the safety gate on the Mississippi wagon bridge when the gate was lowered before opening the bridge for the steamer Washington to pass through. The windshield of the car was demolished and visor of the other car was wrecked.

Another accident occurred on the La Crescent road Sunday when a large touring car went into the ditch and upset about 250 feet west of the west Channel bridge. No one was reported seriously hurt as a result of the mishap.

TWO SMALL FIRES NO DAMAGE DONE

Dolly Quinn came near losing her house while confined in the county jail Sunday morning at 2:47 Central fire station answered a call from 419 South Fourth street, Dolly's home, where a quantity of rubbish in a box outside the house was found to be aflame. No damage was done.

Saturday evening at 6:31 number 5 and number 3 stations received a call from the La Crosse Padding Mills. A spark from the blow pipe of a corn picking machine ignited some refuse. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

PROVES ALIBI IN SUNDBY MURDER

JANESVILLE, Wis.—James R. Varley, 33, overseas veteran, returned to his home here, Monday, following his release as a suspect in the murder of Chief Elmer Smalby, Eau Claire, July 25, 1921. Varley proved a complete alibi through affidavits from friends and the diary of his sister-in-law that he was in Janesville July 8 to August 21.

SO PLANS TO SEND IT TO CONFERENCE MEET BRIEF DELAY

More than 2,000 Differences Between the House and Senate Versions

WASHINGTON. — So numerous were the changes made in the administration tariff bill during its stormy course through the senate that the experts and government printing offices, working jointly and overtime, were unable to get out a new print over Sunday with the result that the sending of a measure to conference was delayed.

Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee said Monday he expected the reprinted bill to be ready Tuesday for house action. In that event, he added, it would be sent to conference under a special rule. The conferees then would begin work late Tuesday or Wednesday.

Representatives Fordney of Michigan, Green of Iowa, and Longworth of Ohio, republicans, and Garner of Texas and Collier of Mississippi, democrats, were listed as the probable house conferees.

The task of composing the 2,000 odd differences between the senate and house will be begun this week. The position of the house on the valuation question may be decided by a direct vote of that body, with the general expectation that it will accept the senate foreign valuation plan, with the so-called flexible tariff provisions, instead of the American valuation provision, which it previously adopted.

MEN WANTED HERE FOR ROBBERY HELD FOR ST. PAUL JOBS

May also be Connected With Dubuque Case; Robbed Store at Wabasha

WORD was received by La Crosse police Sunday that the men picked up in St. Paul Saturday morning in connection with the theft of the license plates from George Flynn's garage and a quantity of tools from his garage, and other thefts in the city on the night of August 5, are also wanted in St. Paul for two safe cracking jobs in that city.

They are also under suspicion for the burglarizing of a hardware store at Wabasha, Minn., on the night of August 6. Someone robbed the hardware store of 12 Winchester pump guns and one 32 calibr automatic revolver and one 32 caliber bulldog revolver. The guns were found on the men when they were arrested.

The two jobs which were pulled in St. Paul are very similar to the one done at Dubuque by the two bandits who escaped into the bluffs here last Tuesday. Only three men were in the car here on the night of August 5, while the St. Paul police found five men in the same car, a fact which has caused Police Chief John Webber to link the two cases together. The chief will take a trip to St. Paul to look over the men on the possibility that the Dubuque bandits may be among them.

L. KLEEBER NAMED AS PRESIDENT OF COURT CLERKS' BODY

Leonard Kleeber, clerk of the circuit court, has returned from a week's vacation, in which time he attended two state conventions, visited half a dozen cities and was elected president of the Clerks of Circuit court association. Mr. Kleeber also attended the Elks' state convention at Beloit. The court clerks met at Racine.

NEW SUPERVISING NURSE FOR HEALTH DEPARTMENT HERE

Miss Viola Nohr to Take Place of Miss Kimball Who Resigned in June

MISS KIMBALL TO LA CROSSE HOSPITAL SUPERINTENDENT

Has Record of Three and a Half Years in Health Department

MISS VIOLA NOHR has been engaged as supervising nurse for the health department in this city to take the place of Miss Myra W. Kimball, who resigned in June after three and a half years in the service of the health department. Miss Kimball will go to the La Crosse hospital as superintendent of nurses.

Miss Nohr comes to La Crosse from Manitowoc where she held the position of public health nurse. During the war she served 13 months overseas, the last six months in the Balkan states in the service of the Red Cross. She is a member of the American Legion.

Miss Nohr has been in public health work for five years, having taken a post graduate course in this phase of nursing. On her return from the service she was attached to the staff of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association at Milwaukee. Two years ago she made a tuberculosis survey of the state of Wyoming.

Miss Kimball and Miss Nohr drove back Sunday from Madison, where they attended a conference of public health nurses and doctors.

Miss Nohr is a sister of Mrs. Harrison M. Church, who formerly taught in the La Crosse high school.

COMMITTEE HOLDS CONTINUED MEET ON MONDAY NIGHT

The meeting of the judiciary and other committees of the common council continued from last week, will be held Monday night in the city hall. The meeting is to consider the ordinance changing the membership of the board of public works and the question of creating the office of street commissioner in the city.

HE HAS POOR LUCK

APPLETON, Wis.—W. P. McCarthy, recovering from injuries suffered about three months ago when he was attacked by a bull, was seated in a rocking chair in his barn watching his men unload grain when a huge timber fell from the roof and struck him on the head and shoulders. His 17-months-old son, in his arms, escaped injury. McCarthy was badly bruised but no bones were broken.

BIG SPUD CROP IN WISCONSIN TO MEAN LOW WINTER PRICE?

MADISON, Wis. — A record breaking potato crop of 37,674,000 bushels estimated for Wisconsin by the state crop reporting service is being viewed with apprehension by growers, who expect that the large production will bring low prices during the winter months.

The state department of markets, after a survey of the situation, is unwilling to make a statement concerning the prospect but agricultural officials are of the opinion that the bumper potato crop, general throughout the nation cannot but have a depressing effect on prices.

Estimates are for a commercial crop of 30,000 cars in Wisconsin, compared to 13,000 cars shipped during the last season.

INQUIRY TO HAVE POWER TO STUDY MINES' ACCOUNTS

Report Will be Required by July 1, Next Year; to be Chosen by President

WASHINGTON. — Chairman Winslow of the house commerce committee, after a conference today with President Harding, announced he would introduce immediately a bill to create a fact-finding coal commission as recommended by the president in his special message to congress.

The measure, Mr. Winslow said, would call for appointment by the president of a commission not to exceed nine members with instructions to report to the chief executive and congress by July 1, 1923. The commission would have wide powers of investigation, including the right to examine the books of various coal producing companies.

Mr. Winslow said this committee would meet later in the day to consider the measure with a view to an immediate favorable report.

RITTER SUES FRENCH CHARGES CONVERSION OF HIS HUNTING DOG

Unusual Case in Trover Brought Before Judge Hunt; Plaintiff Asks Value of Dog, $80

An unusual suit in which a hunting dog or its value is at stake, has been heard before Judge C. W. Hunt and a decision in the case is being withheld pending the return from Camp Custer of Stanley Gordon, attorney for the defendant and the furnishing of law references in the case by the defense.

Albert Ritter owned a hound, part beagle and part fox. He claims he spent considerable time and some money in having the dog trained for rabbit hunting. He alleges that William French converted the dog to his own use and that he has not seen the animal since. Ritter has started suit in trover or conversion for the value of the dog, which he places at $80.

French claims that last November the dog appeared in his back yard on the morning of a day he had decided to go hunting rabbits in Minnesota. They fed the dog and French decided to take him along on the hunting trip. When they had reached the Milwaukee's north side station, French met John Weber, former sheriff, and he told him about the dog and asked if he knew who the owner was. French says Weber told him it was Ritter's dog. French said he nevertheless continued on his hunting trip and returned home that night, fed the dog and turned him loose in the yard again. Mrs. French corroborates her husband's testimony on returning, feeding the dog and turning him loose in the yard. However, Ritter never saw the dog again or got any trace of him. As a result the suit has been started.

YACHT RACES START AT LAKE GENEVA

LAKE GENEVA, Wis.—Forty-four catboats are scheduled to put off in Lake Geneva bay Monday morning in the first of the twenty-fifth annual regatta of the Inland Lakes Yachting association. The Class X contest will follow with eight twenty-four foot sloops participating.

A triangular course is expected to be decided upon by the judges for the first day's race.

TWO IN HOSPITAL ONE IN JAIL AFTER WILD AUTO JAUNT

One May Die With Fractured Skull; Driver Gets Sixty Days and Fine

Claude Taylor, 262 Tenth street, Milwaukee, is in a serious condition in the hospital, there being a fracture of the skull which may prove fatal.

James Millar of the same address Milwaukee, it at the hospital but his injuries are not so serious. He has a badly blackened right eye in addition to several serious cuts on the side and top of the head.

W. S. HEDDLES, WAR COUNCIL HEAD, IS DEAD AT MADISON

MADISON, Wis.—Willard S. Heddles, 61, well-known business man of Madison, died at his home on Sunday after a short illness. # DISORDER FEATURE AS STRIKE HANGS ON PENDING PEACE TRY

Wreck on Michigan Central at Gary is Investigated by Detectives

SHOOTINGS AND NEAR RIOTS REPORTED OVER WIDE AREA

Police and Deputy Sheriffs are Taken on Federal Warrants

CHICAGO, Ill.—Disorders continued to flare in the rail strike during the early hours of its eighth week despite peace negotiations pending at New York and assurances by chiefs of the "Big Four" that no sympathetic strike of train service employes impends to bring complete paralysis to railroad transportation.

While Michigan Central detectives were investigating the Gary, Ind., wreck in which two of the train crew were killed early yesterday, violence broke out anew at scattered points from coast to coast.

New disorders occurred at Columbia, S. C., where eleven men were attacked by a crowd of strike sympathizers.

Hostilities broke out in San Berardino, Calif., where four men were attacked and beaten.

Shooting in Denver

Shots were exchanged by guards and an unknown man in the Rio Grande Western yards at Burnham, Col., a suburb of Denver. The man who answered a guard's challenge by emptying a gun at him, was believed to have been badly wounded. He escaped, leaving a trail of blood.

Hurrying to Kansas City following a near riot in the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific shops there, Governor Allen of Kansas, gave Mayor Harry Burton twenty-four hours in which to restore order, threatening to send troops if the situation was not improved.

Sixteen hundred national guardsmen stood ready at Fort Riley to answer the governor's call.

Official complications arose at Corbin, Ky., where Chief of Police Manning, a policeman and two deputy sheriffs were arrested on federal warrants charging them with resisting and interfering with United States Marshal Williams and his deputies in the discharge of their duties. Chief Manning is said to have instigated the hold-up of Deputy United States marshals on their way to serve restraining orders on strikers at Livingston, Ky.

Troops at Spencer Soon?

Troops were held in readiness to entrain for Spencer, N. C, where the situation had been tense for several days.

Yardmen of the St. Louis-Louisville line of the Southern railway at Princeton, Ind., who had been on strike since Saturday morning, returned to work and freight and passenger traffic which had been tied up was restored.

Governor Hart of Washington took steps to protect fruit growers of his state by sending a representative to Washington to ask the interstate commerce commission for action that will provide cars to move the big Washington fruit crop.

RISK AGENTS ARE WARNED NOT TO "KNOCK" RIVALS

MADISON, Wis.—Insurance agents and companies will be held to strict accountability for their statements about competing companies, according to the announcement of Insurance Commissioner Whitman. This statement arose over the fact that R. L. Lee, of the Liberty Foundry company, Wauwatosa, filed a statement with the commissioner regarding certain statements alleged to have been made by James D. Cantwell, Milwaukee, about a competing company. A hearing was held last week. Cantwell denied having made any such statements regarding a competitor. Because of the keen rivalry between companies, Whitman issued a warning Monday. His investigations indicate that several companies may have indulged in this practice.

HALL OF 500 STATUES

In the Temple of the Five Hundred Genii in Canton, China, which is one of the strangest temples in the world, a white man is paid great honor. The man is Marco Polo, the famous medieval traveler, a statue of whom representing him as a god rests in a niche, with a great bowl in front of it to receive joss sticks and coins as homage. The interior of the temple is in the shape of a cross; along the aisles and transepts, ranged in rows facing each other, are 500 statues that represent famous teachers, philosophers, warriors, statesmen and travelers, who, in some manner, gave such service to the Chinese of the region that their descendants now think of them as genii, or lesser gods. Naturally, the features of most of the statues have a Mongolian cast, but some of them undoubtedly represent Indians, Malays, or Japanese. Beside the statue of the white man there is also one of an African. The statues are all in different poses. Some seem wrapped in the profoundest contemplation; some with upraised hands appear to be teaching; Some seem to be smiling at some ancient joke or at the inconsistencies of life. All of them are carefully carved.

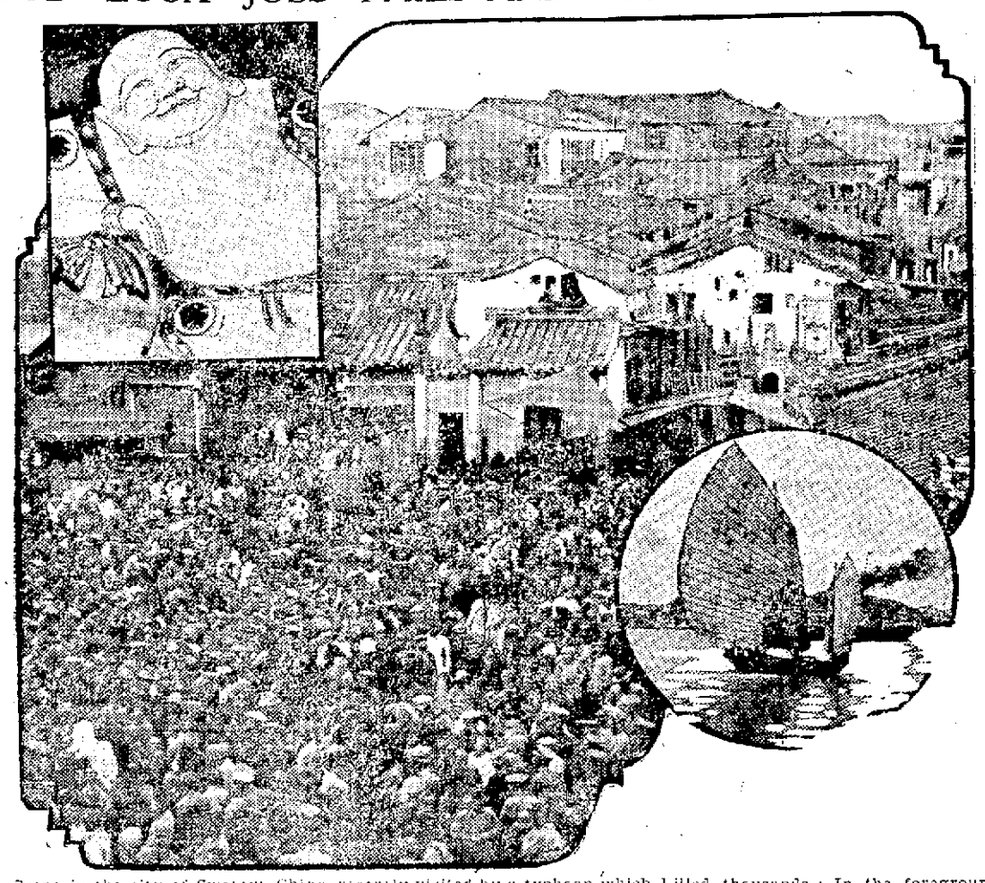
GOOD LUCK JOSS FAILS AND THOUSANDS PERISH



Scene in the city of Swatow, China, recently visited by a typhoon which killed thousands. In the foreground is the city's open air theater, with spectators watching a performance. Upper left, the "good luck" joss of the city, and lower right, a scene in Swatow Bay.

BY WM. PHILIP SIMMS
(Written Especially for NEA Service)

WASHINGTON—The pot-tummied "good luck" joss of Swatow, China, once more has fallen down on his job.

Hongkong dispatches report 28,000 deaths in a typhoon which swept the Chinese port, damaging or destroying every house in the city.

Just a year ago I was in Swatow for NEA Service papers. The native proprietor of the Swatow hotel, the only place in the town of 60,000 where a foreigner could find lodging, directed me to a Chinese photographer—a fellow named Tom.

"Swatow," he told me, "have much bad luck. Just before you come we have big explosion. Powder blow up. Kill hundreds. I show you my pictures."

Tom showed me. It seemed almost every house in town had been hit, and everywhere among the debris were the ghastly, distorted forms of the mangled dead.

"Before that, Swatow had big fire. Before that, Swatow had bad earthquake. Before that, big tidal wave. Before that, bad famine. Before that, terrible typhoon. Swatow have got bad joss."

Swatow seems to be cursed, indeed, despite the fat and smiling god in her principal joss-house.

This is the typhoon season and Swatow is directly in the path they usually take. They rise down around the Philippines, swing northwest, then north up the China coast, carrying death and destruction in their wake. Circling toward the northeast they pass out into the Pacific again, and woe unto the ships that get in their way!

Swatow is a bustling port nevertheless and notwithstanding. Her junk trade is heavy and most of the small British and Japanese coast steamers call there to take on and discharge cargo.

The coast about Swatow is famous for its pirates and all coast steamers carry armed guards who patrol the decks, rifle on shoulder and automatics strapped to waists, night and day.

It is seldom, however, that the pirates attempt to board a foreign steamer so long as it is capable of navigating. But once it is in distress, or goes ashore as the result of some such typhoon as that which has just visited Swatow, they storm it in legions. Plunder is their object, of course, and murder is merely a side line.

JUNGLE CREATURES USURP DOGS AS PETS OF LONDON ELITE

LONDON.—The place long held by the dog as a family pet and street companion threatens to be usurped by the monkey and other exotic creatures. Women are seen carrying marmosets, mongooses, foxes, and parrots.

People also are getting accustomed to the woman with a young white fox on a string, another with three cats and the chimpanzee that rides in a motor car.

But the most startling innovation in family pets was observed at a lawn party where a guest carried what appeared to be a sunshade with a highly decorative handle. Closer inspection revealed the "handle" to be a beautifully marked snake, perfectly motionless and carelessly twined over its fair owner's arm and around her sunshade.

THE DOGS OF CONSTANTINOPLE

For many generations one of the most striking features of life in Constantinople to the tourists has been the great tribes of dogs allowed to run at large in the city. They are a constant menace, but the natives have religious scruples against killing them. When the young Turks came into power some time ago one of the evidences of their progressive spirit was the slaughtering of thousands of these animals. Because of the sympathy of the natives for the dogs they have been allowed to run undisturbed and now the streets are again filled with these animals. There is again an agitation for getting rid of these animals, but it is hard to make any progress because of the attitude of the natives.

RAINMAKER HATFIELD TO SHOWER ITALY AT BID OF GOVERNMENT

American Shower Producer Goes to Naples to Break Long Drought

LONDON.—An American "rainmaker," Charles M. Hatfield, who claims to have brought relief for drought sufferers in the United States and Canada, has arrived at Naples, having been invited by the Italian government to try to bring rain to that vicinity, parched by five months' drought, says a Central News dispatch from Naples Monday.

If he is successful at Naples, the government will engage him to repeat the process in other districts suffering from lack of rain. He was quoted Monday as saying he was going to explain his secret process to Pope Pius and if the pontiff agreed he would try to induce rain to fall on the vatican gardens which for some reason has been withered by the drought.

BUDGET PLANS OF STATE DEPARTMENTS ARE NOW UNDER WAY

MADISON, Wis.—Plans for the budget of state expenses for the coming biennium is now being prepared under direction of J. B. Borden, secretary of the state board of public affairs. Before the departments will be asked to submit their requests for appropriations with their tabulations of the amounts, a complete check will be had of the expenses of each department during the past three years. This compilation of expenses is now being made and will probably be finished early in September. During the coming month the departments and state institutions will submit their requests. When these are all filed the state board of public affairs will hold its hearings and the budget for submission to the legislature will be worked out. This budget will be ready for the desks of the members at the opening day of the session.

CHICAGO KLANSMEN LINE UP 500 MEN TO AID A CHURCH

March into Edifice and Leave Contribution on Altar; $1200 to Repair Church

CHICAGO.—As the Rev. Johnson Myers, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, explained to his congregation that more money must be contributed if much needed repairs to the church were to be made, a knock sounded at the door and more than a dozen figures, masked, hooded, and robed in the garb of the Ku Klux Klan marched into the room. Silently they proceeded to the altar, where they halted. The leader spoke.

"The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan have come to do their part in this cause," he said.

At a signal the door opened again and a line of 500 men filed through each man depositing a contribution as he passed the altar. The robed figures stood until the last marcher left the room, then turned and followed.

The Rev. Mr. Myers counted $1,200.

The steeple of the church was recently blown over in a windstorm, badly damaging the building. Services have since been held in the basement.

This is Rich!

THE smallest store in the world is closed for alterations because its proprietor has gained five pounds in weight, which makes it virtually impossible for him to turn around without exhaling his breath. This smallest store is Milton Lubin's jewelry shop, just off Times Square, New York City. On the inside it is a triangle, with a frontage of five feet, and three and a half feet deep. Milt says the only place he can hang his coat is on the ceiling.

"I have to be in constant training to be slim enough to work here," says Milt. "It is very uncomfortable after a full meal. I take constant exercise and diet carefully."

Lately, however, Milt's weight has soared nearly to 100 pounds. Carpenters had to be called in with thinner boards.

It amazes you to learn that the world's smallest store does a business of $250,000 a year—thin watches, diamonds and other precious stones. Milt has an assistant. But they have to work in relays, for if the two of them are on the job at the same time there is no room for a customer. Only one customer can get into the store at a time. Fat men have tried to enter, then decided to do business from the sidewalk.

The rent for this little cubby-hole is $6000 a year! It is said to be the highest rent in the world, in proportion to space occupied. Also, it is a monumental illustration of the price men pay for swarming together in cities. Maybe Milton Lubin is making a lot of money out of his store. We don't know. But we do know that, to any one loving the natural life of the great outdoors, it would take a good many millions to compensate for the physical discomforts of working in such a small cage.

Still, with city congestion steadily becoming worse, it is entirely plausible that this smallest store in the world is a prophetic sample of what metropolitan life will be for most people in a few more generations.

The Coming Sport

IS GOLF going to take the place of baseball as our foremost national sport? You may scoff at the suggestion. But sporting goods manufacturers estimate that at least 2,000,000 Americans are golfers. And that is only a beginning. Any one with his eyes open realizes that a golf craze is sweeping the country like a prairie fire. In popularity, golf is growing far faster than baseball grew in its early days.

For every one that plays golf, there are five who would be playing if they could. In the main, golf still is a rich man's game. The price of getting into a good golf club is prohibitive for the average man—and usually intentionally so, to keep the membership "exclusive." Many cities have municipal golf courses, but not enough of them. A player generally has to stand in line for hours before he can drive off. And, while plodding from hole to hole, he finds the course so crowded that it's like being in a shrapnel barrage.

The shortage of golf courses for the person of moderate means drives home the principle that America has made practically no provisions for recreational sports for the people.

If golf ever does dethrone baseball, it will be in some ways good for the national health. The baseball fan rarely plays the game himself. He sits and watches professionals play. You do not, however, find golf enthusiasts sitting back and watching other players—except an occasional star. The golfer is not a grandstand loafer. He gets out and plays the game himself.

Golf sometimes is sneered at as a namby-pamby game, but only by people whose knowledge of it is limited to observation from a passing auto. Carried to extremes, golf is a dangerously violent sport. In moderation, however, as an exercise, golf is one of the most scientific sports ever devised. It combines the benefits of long-distance walking with the swinging-on-the-ball that brings nearly every muscle of the body into play. The connection between golf and the proverbial health of the Scotch may be closer than any of us dream.

Good golf courses, available to the public at low cost, are needed as much as good roads—possibly more. Golf may be the magic tonic for civilization's ills caused by lack of exercise. It may also prove to be the safety valve for the high nervous tension that is gripping so many of us.

Youth

SIR R. BADEN-POWELL tells the international Boy Scouts conference in Paris that the key to lasting world peace lies in educating the rising generation for peace and against war. That is true. It will take more than one generation to drive the war instinct out of the human brain. The drive can begin only in the cradle. Grown-ups believe in war, whether they admit it or not. And their brain cells, set like concrete, are not open to new impressions and impulses.

Ease

A TYPEWRITER in an airplane is run accurately by wireless. The operator is on the ground, miles away. This is announced by the Navy Department. It is an important invention, enabling a stenographer in San Francisco to type a message, instantly duplicated on a radio typewriter in New York. Much work in the future, and maybe only a few years off, will be done by wireless-controlled machinery, miles from any human being.

Rents

TWELVE thousand apartments are vacant in Chicago and rents have fallen an average of a fourth. So reports M. S. Walsh of the Tenants' League. The building boom, by gradually eliminating the shortage of homes, is beginning to solve the rent problem. The importance of Walsh's report is that national economic movements frequently start in Chicago. Lower rents are coming everywhere, only a question of time.

Helen

HELEN KRAWGOFF, 14 years old, passes through on a 12,000-mile journey from Japan to Germany. A long trip, but she travels alone—and safely. Five hundred years ago, women usually were not safe 12 miles, let alone 12,000. Civilization has brought them protection. Men are better than they used to be, but nothing to brag about yet.

Always hunt the bright side. Suppose spooks played calliopes instead of tambourines?

In spite of longer skirts a Texas dentist pulled the wrong tooth for a girl.

"Let's go" seems to be the slogan our money goes by.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

William Tscharner left today for Madison to attend a convention of the state postmasters' association which he was instrumental in organizing ten years ago.

A considerable rise was noted in quotations on eggs on the local wholesale market this morning. Firsts are quoted at twenty-one cents and seconds at nineteen cents.

Miss Ella Perkins of this city and Lawrence Fiers of Onalaska were married at the Caledonia Street M. E. parsonage this afternoon by Rev. A. V. Ingham. They will live at Brice's Prairie.

Mrs. C. J. Felber leaves Thursday for Hinsdale, Ill., to attend the tenth annual golf tournament of the Woman's Western Golf association. Miss Magdalene Felber will join her mother the following day.

A new free employment bureau was established in La Crosse today by E. A. Erickson of the Builders' Exchange. The bureau will be in the office of the Exchange in the Batavian Bank building.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Joseph S. Lennon and daughter, Augustine have left for New York to visit. Mr. Lennon's visit will be the first he has made in fifty years.

Miss Ella Riley has resigned her position with the Wisconsin Telegraph Co. She has gone to Minneapolis where she has accepted a position with the Northwestern Telegraph Co.

C. L. V. Craft has purchased the George Edwards property at Sixth and Vine streets and will move into it next week.

Professor Packman of Dover, England, has accepted the position of choir master in Christ church.

Dr. A. U. Jorris has discontinued his Sparta and Winona branches and will henceforth give all hsi time to La Crosse.

All the schools are undergoing their annual repairs to be ready for the opening of school September 2. Very little repair work is being done on the high school owing to the fact that there will be a new one in so short a time.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Anton Linker resumed his duties as mail carrier today after a two weeks' vacation.

The Knights of Labor have moved from their quarters in the Healy block to Solberg's hall because there was not enough room for the different assemblies to meet at one time.

Messrs. Stoltze and Schick have about completed their plans for a new hardware store for Fred Kroner and bids will be opened on the Builders' Exchange tomorrow. The same architects are also engaged in drawing plans for the new residence of Dr. H. P. Johnson, who recently moved here from Houston and who will build a residence on the corner of State and Fourteenth streets.

George J. Egge completed putting gas fixtures in Osthy brothers' new store on Rose street yesterday. The store opened up today.

A new industry is starting out in La Crosse. It is the La Crosse Paper Box company, which has leased the building on Front street adjoining the steam laundry. G. R. Montague has been looking up some one to start up such a factory for some time and has finally persuaded Frank Haywood to come here and start a factory. He will start with a few men and a dozen girls. The La Crosse Cracker and Candy company will give him an initial order for 50,000 boxes.

Entertaining Hildegarde

By JANE OSBORN

The telegram came on the 10th of June. The dance was set for the 15th. Hildegrade Blaxton opened the yellow envelope at dinner and read, "Can you come to senior dance on 15th. Must have you. Tom."

"What is it, daughter?" asked Mr. Blaxton, and Hildegrade blushed, and then blushed more furiously through vexation with herself for blushing.

"It's an invitation from Tom Frobisher to the senior dance. I would love to go."

"But the railroad fare alone would cost $60," commented an elder sister.

"I thought Tom was only a junior—he must be a couple of years younger than you," said Mrs. Blaxton with the air of one who merely seeks information.

"He's not a whole year younger," she said and then, "But what difference does that make?—just because you go to a dance with a man doesn't mean that you're going to marry him?"

"Well, I don't understand at all,'" sighed Mr. Blaxton. "The nerve of young men of today who expect a girl to spend hundreds of dollars on carfare to go to dances with them and then don't intend to marry them—"

"Pooh," scoffed Hildegarde, "Maybe the young men want to marry the girls, but maybe the girls won't have them—. If I went to this dance with Tom Frobisher I should go because I haven't been anywhere all winter or spring. It would do me a lot of good, I'd see all the old crowd, and meet some new people. It wouldn't be because I expected to marry Tom Frobisher—necessarily."

"All I have to say then," said Mr. Blaxton, "is that I shall not finance the trip." So saying he finished his small cup of coffee and followed his wife's lead to leave the table.

That night before Hildegarde retired she went to her father.

"I think I shall go to the dance with Tom. It will cost only $100. I have clothes enough on hand. I shall spend the $100 I earned tutoring the Baley children. You don't object, of course? There are chaperones as soon as we get there."

"When a girl of today announces her plans," said Mr. Blaxton, "a mere father has nothing further to say."

So Hildegarde's acceptance of Tom Frobisher's invitation had not been rose strewn from the first. For the last fifty miles of her trip Hildegarde forgot the spirit of rebellion mingled with regret that spoiled her peace of mind, in the company of Dudley Barr, whom she had met at a house party a year before and who now was counted as one of the most brilliant young men on the faculty of Frobisher's college.

At the station they parted, Dudley to hurry off with a very polite doffing of the hat and Hilegarde to be met with effusive and rather spectacular greetings by Tom Frobisher.

It was the day before the dance. That evening there was a little get-acquainted dance at the frat house. Following tradition Tom Frobisher took Hildegarde to Neal's for tea in the afternoon.

Dudley Barr chanced to be at Neal's—not indulging in afternoon tea but indulging his sweet tooth with pastry and incidentally making observations on the students on parade who always amused him.

He caught sight of Tom Frobisher and Hildegarde at a small table and then to his surprise saw Tom rather ungraciously leave Hildegarde to go to speak to a group of young people at a table next to his.

Elaborate greetings were exchanged and Tom regarded the overdressed flappers there with manifest approval.

"Oh, that's Hildegarde Blaxton."

"Who's the peach with you?" asked one of the men.

"I thought your best girl's name was Rose," teased one of the flappers.

"Maybe Rose is my best girl—" beamed Tom Frobisher, "but there has to be a second best you know. Rose was coming, but the last thing her dad held up the funds. She lives way out in Frisco. But she's coming next year, if she has to walk. That's what her telegram said."

"She'll have to look out," winced one of the overdressed flappers, "or the charming Hildegarde will vamp you away."

"Swell chance," promised Tom Frobisher and then strutted back to Hildegarde.

Dudley Barr lingered long over his pastry. Then when Tom and Hildegarde had risen from their table and Tom had gone ahead to settle his account at the desk, Dudley strode quickly to Hildegarde's side.

"Miss Blaxton," he said without much ceremony, "will you go to the baseball game with me tomorrow afternoon?"

Hildegarde looked around anxiously to see if Tom were overhearing. "I should love to, but isn't it customary for the man who asks a girl to a senior dance to take her to the baseball game too?"

"It certainly is," agreed Dudley. "But I happen to know that Mr. Frobisher has to work all the afternoon in the laboratory. So you will be free, if you choose, to go to the game with me."

"Then I should be charmed." And Dudley Barr moved away as Hildegarde and Tom Frobisher met and pushed their way past the incoming crowds at Neal's.

They walked leisurely back to the fraternity house. In the meantime Dudley Barr made haste, for he had an important note to write.

"Hang it all," said Tom after glancing at an official-looking note that was waiting for him at the frat house. "That sorehead Barr has tied me up for the afternoon tomorrow. I had to make up some fib but I thought he was going to let me off. Now comes this note to say that I've got to make up three hours in chem before he'll get me through that course. And I passed his rotten old exam. I call that dirty work, I do."

Hildegarde looked puzzled. "Is that the first notice you have had?" she asked.

"Yes," said Tom, "and it's just at the time of the game. But, hang it all, I'll cut it. What does credit in that course compare with going to the ball game with you? Say, Hildegarde, you don't think I'd pass up going to that game with you for all the credit in the world, do you?"

"If you think as much of me as that," blushed Hildegarde, "please do the laboratory work. Do it for my sake."

"Prettily said," said Tom, "Perhaps I had better see it through."

So while Tom Frobisher toiled in the laboratory, alone save for a pinch-faced assistant whom Dudley Barr had left to watch, Dudley sat beside Hildegarde, and students and their girls who knew Tom Frobisher and had seen him with the striking Hildegarde looked on and wondered.

Just behind Dudley and Hildegarde as they were leaving the stadium walked one of the students to whom Tom had conversed the day before at Neal's.

"Rough on Tom," commented the student, looking ahead.

"But it isn't as if she was his very best girl," said the overdressed flapper; and then, as they had passed safely beyond Hildegarde and Dudley Barr, she added: "I said that loud on purpose. I wanted that Hildegarde person to hear. I think she's a perfect cat to go off with that professor when poor Tom is working in the lab."

And Hildegarde had heard and so had Dudley Barr, but neither made any comment. But when Dudley Barr asked Hildegarde if she would let him see her off at the station the day after the dance Hildegarde assured him that she would be glad to do so.

After effusive farewells Hildegarde boarded the train wondering where Dudley Barr could be, and then Dudley appeared. "It just happens that I was leaving on the same train. You won't object to letting me have my seat changed to this one beside you?"

So Dudley traveled on with Hildegarde, and Hildegarde wondered all the time why Dudley did not leave. Within an hour of the time due to arrive in her home town Dudley became very nervous.

"Hildegarde," he said, "I arranged affairs so that I could come home with you. I wanted to ask you to marry me. I wouldn't poach—you know that. If you really cared for Tom Frobisher or if he was worthy of you—I would have kept my secret to myself. If you will let me I'll go home with you so that I can present myself to your father and mother and do the thing in the good old-fashioned manner."

"Oh, I am so glad," breathed Hildegarde. "Father is very old-fashioned. I know he will approve of you."

Not Particular

A good naval yarn is told by "Windlass" in his cheerful book, "With the R. N. R." The officers of a patrol yacht were entertaining sweethearts and wives. Billy's introduction to Mrs. Marshall by her husband was as charming as it was memorable. Holding out his hand, "Delighted," cried the young sub-lieutenant enthusiastically, "delighted to meet any wife of yours."—York (England) Post.

Too True

"That young man stays to an unearthly hour every night, Gladys," said the irate father to his youngest daughter. "What does your mother say about it?"

"Well, dad," Gladys replied, as she turned to go upstairs, "she says that men haven't changed a bit."—Everybody's Magazine.

I will not be afraid to look
My Destiny in the eye.

And grace to hold my head
And walk this mortal span
So that, when I must take my leave,
I take it * * * like a Man.

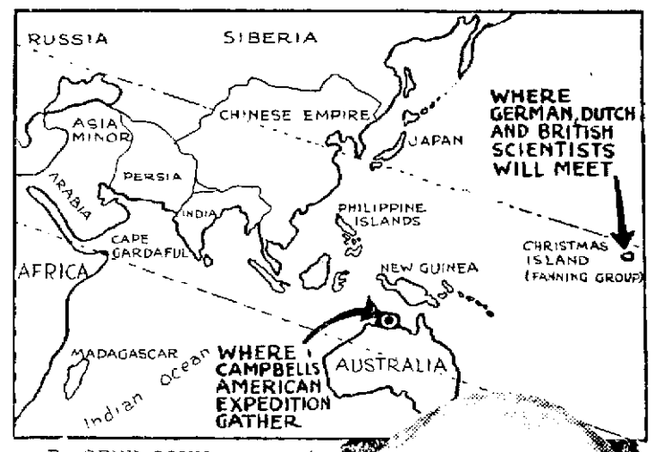
SCIENTISTS TO RISK LIVES IN EXILE TO TEST EINSTEIN



By GENE COHN.

SAN FRANCISCO. — The whole world of astronomical science is hurrying to remote spots of the South Seas and Antipodes where learned scientists will risk life and health—

To trail a beam of light!

Two American expeditions already are under way, taking with them tons of the latest sky-searching apparatus and photographic equipment.

From Berlin is being rushed something absolutely new in telescopes, the work of years in the Zeiss plant at Jena, while a company of German and Dutch astronomers accompany it, headed by Dr. Joseph Hoppman. They are bound for a lonely spot on Christmas Island, in the Fanning group.

The Royal Astronomical Society of England also is sending its envoys to Christmas Island.

For Sept. 21 a total eclipse of the sun will be visible over a narrow ridge 100 kilometers wide, stretching from Cape Gardafui in Africa, through the Indian ocean, and on the northwest coast of Australia.

Selection of sites for this spectacle are limited, for the tests and photographs to be made in connection with this eclipse are like no other in astronomical history.

Test Einstein Theory

Why? Because the men of science are to put the Einstein theory of relativity to its severest test.

What this test will be was explained to NEA Service by Professor W. W. Campbell, of Lick Observatory who heads the American expedition, just before he sailed. The American party will make its observations from the remote 90-mile-beach on the northwest coast of Australia.

"The thing Einstein has predicted," explains Professor Campbell, "is that during this eclipse certain stars occupying a position in the sky near the sun will seem to be displaced slightly away from the sun.

"Absolute proof of the theory can be secured only during a total eclipse of the sun, for under such a condition the light of the sun is hidden and it is then possible to photograph the stars in the sun's vicinity.

"What we are testing is one of Einstein's three leading deductions, which is that the rays of light from a distant star undergo a noticeable deflection as they pass near the sun."

The coast of Australia for which the American scientists are destined is one of the most rugged in the world.

Map showing where scientists of three nations will test Einstein theory. Below, Professor W. W. Campbell who will head one of the American expeditions.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

THE OLD GRIND

BY BERTON BRALEY
(Unemployment Decreasing—News headline)

Praise be, I am working again:
It ain't such a much of a job,
But take it from me, it's a pleasure to be
A part of the laborin' mob.
When I have been loafin' so long
(I know just how long it has been),
Now the kids can have shoes, and I'll say it's good news
To tell you I'm workin' again.

It may be a picnic to loaf,
When you have a wad that is swell,
But when you go broke and your clothes are in soak,
It ain't any picnic—it's hell!
And when all you know is your job,
And nobody wants any men—
You'll see why I say, with a Hip-Hip Hooray,
"I'm workin', I'm workin' again!"

The wife's worn one dress for a year,
And how we were fed I don't know;
There's little cheer on the Ways of the Poor,
But there's lots of things it don't show.
Now I've got a pay check once more!
Of all the glad words tongue or pen
Have sai' or have wrote, these are getlin' my vote,
"Oh, boy, I am workin' again!"

COW TESTING ASSOCIATIONS HELPED PLACE WISCONSIN AT TOP IN DAIRYING INDUSTRY

INCREASED USE OF TRACTORS CAUSED BY LATE PLOWING

Fields Should be Plowed as Soon as Grain is Off, Says Guy H. Hall

CHICAGO, Ill.—A reason for the marked increase in high speed farming in the United States was given by Guy H. Hall, director of the National Institute of Progressive Farming, today, as the result of a study of figures from the Central Experimental Farm of the Dominion of Canada and of the Oklahoma Experiment station.

"The necessity for the use of tractors and other timesaving implements may be understood from these figures when it is observed that a month's delay in plowing seed will cut the wheat crop in half, and barley and oats nearly as much," said Mr. Hall. "In other words, stubble fields should be plowed and prepared for seed immediately grain is off. And this emergency comes at the very time when th other farm work is at the peak. The farmer must do everything at once, as it were, and the only way he can do it is with the most modern mechanical aids."

At the Oklahoma station, according to Mr. Hall, plowing was done at three different dates; July 19, when the ground was in the proper state of moisture; August 15, when it was hard and lumpy; September 11, when it was dry and cloddy. Each plot was seeded September 15. The yields were: July 19, 31.3 bushels of wheat; August 15, 23.5 bushels; September 11, 15.3 bushels. The station concludes "early plowing for wheat is profitable and if wheat follows oats, the soil should be plowed immediately after the oat crop is harvested.

In the Canadian experiment, a delay of one week in seeding wheat resulted in a 20 per cent decrease; of two weeks, 40 per cent decrease; three weeks, 50 per cent decrease; four weeks, 58 per cent decrease. The decrease in barley for the same periods were respectively 24, 38, 40 and 48 per cent. Oats the decreases were 15, 22, 32 and 42½ per cent.

COW TESTING NOTES

Cow testing association reports for the month of July show a decided decline in production in practically all herds. The explanation for this may be given by the fact that many pastures have grown to rank grass and little new grass was produced, also to an abundance of flies. Where some green pasture feeds as oats and peas or green alfalfa or corn or mill feed was added to the ration the production has been maintained to a level very comparable to previous months. The Washington cow testing association reports as follows: "The association has purchased eighty tons of bran and twenty tons of oil meal. The regular picnic was scheduled for Myrick's park, August 13th. The high herd for the month is owned by Augus; Hammes and has an average production of 37.56 pounds of fat in 802.2 pounds of milk. The second high herd is owned by J. E. Stromstad. The average production 33.62 pounds of fat in 747.2 pounds of milk.

Hillsboro Association

Mr. Verner Sorenson of the Hillsboro Cow Testing association reports as follows: "During the month of July we had 53 forty pound cows. Last year our number was 26. Twelve herds produced over 40 pounds of fat. Last year we had only two herds that produced over this amount. The high cow is owned by Albert Eick a grade Holstein that produced 66.6 pounds of fat in 1359 pounds of milk. Her test was 4.9 per cent of fat. The second high cow is a purebred owned by J. J. Sinkule with a production of 55.6 pounds of fat. Mr. Sinkule like many others of the association members has gained 16 pounds per cow in the two months tested over the production of last year.

"Our annual picnic will be held in Tourists park on Sunday, August 20. Everyone is cordially invited to be present."

Viroqua Association

Mr. Ed. Lindow of the Viroqua cow testing association reports that for the month of July the Syverhus Bros. with their 19 head of registered and grade Guernseys have the high herd average. Their production was 29.8 pounds of butterfat in 676 pounds of milk, which tests 4.74 per cent of butterfat. The second high herd is owned by Hilmer Lindvig. His herd consists of nine head of grade Jerseys. Their production was 26.6 pounds of butterfat in 672 pounds of milk, with a test of 4.4 per cent butterfat. The twelve high cows of the association are listed herewith:

MEMBERS OF CLUB HEAR INTERESTING SPEECH AT PICNIC

County Agent Spreiter Gives Historical Outline at Picnic of Washington Association

The Washington Cow Testing association held a picnic at Myrick park on Sunday afternoon, August 13, which was well attended by the members of the association and others. Besides a very enjoyable outing, those who attended received valuable instructions concerning association work.

In a brief talk Mr. W. E. Spreiter, agricultural agent for La Crosse county, outline the history and purposes of cow testing associations in Wisconsin. He said in part: "The first cow testing association in the country was organized in 1906. At that time there was only one association in the state. Interest in this phase of farm activity has increased since then to the point that in 1921 there were 452 associations in the United States.

"In Wisconsin we have now 127 associations in which about 52,000 cows are tested annually. The cows of the United States average 4,000 pounds of milk and 160 pounds of butter fat, while Wisconsin cows average 4,400 pounds of milk and 191 pounds of butter fat. These averages are for all cows, in or out of associations. The average for Wisconsin cows in cow testing associations is 5,000 pounds of milk and 237 pounds of butter fat.

"The average production of all cows in the 452 cow testing associations in the United States is 5,889 pounds of milk and 247 pounds of butter fat.

"The object of cow testing associations is (1) not a contest between farmers or herds, but to get the farmers acquainted with his herd, with each individual so he may know which ones product at a profit and which at a loss so that the "bourders" or unprofitable animals may be culled out and disposed of. (2) It is to develop better feeders, better caretakers and better judges of dairy cattle. (3) It inspires keener interest in better dairying.

"The large amount of testing done in Wisconsin is what has put the state in the lead in the dairying industry.

"In order to improve the dairy herds it is necessary to use better sires—sires whose offspring will be better producers than their dams and so on, keep increasing the production per cow."

CALF CLUB EXHIBIT AT MONROE COUNTY FAIR ONE OF BEST

Farm Boys and Girls Prepare for Calf Club Round up at Tomah, August 23rd

Monroe county's present and future in dairying will be depicted in a striking manner at the Monroe county fair this year where 65 boys and girls will demonstrate their ability in feeding, fitting and showing their calves. County Agent Liddle reports that the youngsters have a lot of calves that are as good as anything that will be shown in the cattle department and he urges fair visitors to look at this splendid ehibit.

Quite a number of the Calf club members will go directly from Tomah to the State fair where they will exhibit their calves in competition with boys and girls from all over Wisconsin. While at the State fair they will live in a Boys' and Girls' camp which is under the supervision of representatives of the state college of agriculture.

Arrangements have been made by the County Breeders' associations and the fair officials to pay the expenses of the youngsters to Tomah and West Allis. Three special demonstration teams representing the Jerseys, Guernseys and Holsteins are now being trained for a contest at the County fair. The wining tehm will be sent to the State fair.

Mr. Liddle also informs us that a junior exhibit will represent Monroe county at the La Crosse Interstate fair and it is quite likely that a group will go to the National Dairy show at Minneapolis-St. Paul in October.

FOOD VALUE OF HOLSTEIN MILK IS EMPHASIZED BY HERMAN MARX, DAIRYMAN

(The following article on the "Value of Holstein Milk" was written for the Tribune by Herman Marx, West Salem dairy expert):

The other day while riding on the train I heard an elderly lady make the remark that she would not drink Holstein milk if it were given to her for nothing. I immediately became interested hoping to learn why she was against the use of Holstein milk, but just then (as is always the case when you're interested in something) the brakeman came in and yelled something I couldn't understand; anyway, the woman jumped up, grabbed her youngster and seven packages and left the train.

That's why I am writing this article, trusting it may catch her eye and set her right on Holstein milk.

Nutritious

The milk from the Holstein cow is furnishing more nutritious and healthful food for the people of our country than that produced by any other breed of cattle. When we stop to realize that milk constitutes practically one-sixth of all the food used for body nourishment, and that, in nearly all of our large cities and towns, from sixty to eight-five per cent of all the milk consumed comes from Holstein cows.

Holstein cows' milk is a most desirable all around food. It contains all the essentials for growth and maintenance of the body. It is not only the best milk, other than mother's, for infant feeding, but it is also a milk well suited to the growing child, the convalescent, and the active adult in every walk of life.

Holsteins Good Milkers

The Holstein cow represents the most perfect milking animal known, having every characteristic of a cow suitable for an infant's milk supply. The reason for this is the very close similarity in composition between mother's milk and that of the Holstein cow. This is an extremely important point for every mother to remember, if her children need to be fed upon cows' milk. In this case she should always secure milk from the milkman who can furnish Holstein cows' milk, keeping in mind, always, that it is the milk which a child can digest perfectly, that will furnish the greatest amount of nutritive material for a constant and normal growth. Holstein milk is easy of digestion, because of its medium fat content, together with its small-sized fat globules. It also comes nearer to human milk than that of any other breed of cows. The reason for this is that the emulsion of the fats in Holstein milk is much nearer in fineness to the emulsion in human milk than is that of any other breeds. The fat also contains a less amount of the objectionable volatile glycerides so pronounced in the fats of Jersey cows, and in this way also corresponds more closely to the quality of human milk.

Fat Content

The question of the relative size of the fat globules has come up in the course of investigation conducted in the interests of scientific stock feeding. Through a series of experiments conducted at Storr's agricultural experiment station, for the purpose of finding the relative food value of the solids from milk poor and rich in fat content, when fed to young, growing animals, it was determined that to produce one pound of gain in live weight in the young pigs and lambs upon which the experiments were made, more total solids were required with the milk rich in butterfat than with the milk poor in butterfat.

Larger fat globules were found in the richer milk, and this fact, in connection with the digestive disturbances, would seem to indicate the reason for the larger gains from a pound of solids with the poorer milk.

Holstein "Nurses"

These experiments support the opinions held by nearly all experienced in the care of young stock. Even the owners of fine Guernsey and Jersey herds commonly maintain a few Holsteins as "nurses," for they find it difficult and, sometimes impossible to rear their Jersey and Guernsey calves on the milk of their own mothers.

When a farmer finds that his calves fail to digest milk rich in fat, he is not inclined to attempt feeding his babies with it. Taking into consideration his opportunity of comparing the effects of the different kinds of milk, it is not strange that, in general, farmers have been in advance of the rest of the community in finding out which milk is preferable for infant feeding.

Fat Content Normal

Milk-fat, or cream as it usually called in the home, is the principal cause of stomach trouble in infants, when it is present in cows' milk in excess of that normally found in human milk. Quoting from Dr. Rotch of Harvard university, a well-known authority on pediatrics, we find this statement: "It is especially important that the percentage of fat in an infant's food should be within the limits of the normal variations, which are found in the milk of healthy nursing women with healthy infants." Results of studies, by numerous well recognized authorities, show that average human milk has a fat content ranging from three to four per cent. The average fat content of Holstein milk is found to be three and four-tenths per cent. Thus we see that it more nearly meets the fat requirements as found necessary for infants, than does the milk from cows whose fat content is five per cent or higher, as is the case with those which belong to the Jersey breed, whose milk averages about five and thirty-five hundredths per cent, and those of the Guernsey breed, which produces a milk averaging close to five per cent. Nor can this excessive fat condition be successfully modified by the addition of water.

In view of the fact that so many disorders associated with infant or adult invalid feeding arise from the indigestibility of milk rich in fat, this variation in the product of the different breeds is exceedingly important. When knowledge on this subject becomes general, when its importance is understood, people will learn to ask for milk by name, and the name that will be in every mind and on every tongue will identify the breed of cows whose milk possesses demonstrated superiority for human food.

PLANT WIZARD SHOWS YOUTH BY STANDING ON HIS HEAD

HOW LUTHER BURBANK, THE PLANT WIZARD, STANDS ON HIS HEAD AT 73.

(By GENE COHN)

SANTA ROSA, Cal.—At 73 Luther Burbank, horticultural wizard, is fresh, productive and healthy as the soil from which he gets his wonder plants.

He stands on his head with the skill of any small boy. He jumps the rope with neighbors' youngsters and vaults his garden fence.

His theory: "Keep growing like the plants. Don't let weeds grow in your mind."

If his pepful condition were not sufficient argument for his life philosophy, the "plant wizard" can point to 3000 new experiments under way on his farm. Grains as a class still occupy the greater part of his attention.

Rear Children Like Plants

But it is to the youth of America and its future that his kindly impulses turn at 73 and to parents he delivers this appeal: "Train your children like plants."

"The one place truly fit for rearing of children is the country or the small town," he says.

"The nearer to nature the better. When they are thus reared I must protest most earnestly against beginning education at kindergarten age. No boy or girl thus situated should see the inside of a schoolhouse until 10.

"All animal life is sensitive to environment, but of all living things the child is most sensitive. Surroundings act as the outside world acts on the plate of a camera.

"In successful cultivation of plants there must be absolute honesty. You cannot deceive nature or thwart her, without reacting consequences.

Blames Wrong Breeding for Crime

"The wave of public dishonesty is due chiefly to lack of proper training —breeding, if you please—in the formative years of life.

"Be honest with your child. Dishonesty in word, look or deed and you have started a grafter. Teach a child self-respect as you would train a plant into better growth.

"And, again alluding to the plants, surround your child with the sunshine from your heart and the open sky, giving it free communion with nature, well balanced and nutritious food, healthy environment and he will be marked for all life with such desirable traits as you wish."

JERSEY CATTLE CLUB WILL ATTEMPT TO INTEREST MORE BREEDERS AT ANNUAL FAIR

Cut shows exhibits which will be shown by Jersey Cattle Club of America at the State Fair which is to be held at Milwaukee beginning on August 28th.

The Jersey Cattle Club of America is going to make an effort at the State Fair, August 28th, to interest more dairymen in that breed of cattle. An extensive exhibit calculated to show the greater value of Jersey cattle as dairy utility animals has been built by the national club and will be shown for the first time at the Wisconsin State Fair.

The activity on the part of the club reflects a greater interest in this breed of dairy cattle in Wisconsin than has been manifested in former years.

IMPROVED MARKET FOR BEEF CATTLE IS SEEN LATELY

Beef Cattle Industry in America Looking up Says Hereford Association Secretary

TRANSFERS OF PUREBREDS IN JULY, 1922, DOUBLE 1921 MARK

Demand for Purebred Has Increased Tremendously

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—By the Associated Press.—The beef cattle industry in America is looking up, according to R. J. Kinzer, secretary of the American Hereford Association.

All along the line, he said, there is a feeling of optimism and confidence, with the breeder of purebreds, with the managers of range herds from which the major supply of feeder cattle is drawn, and with the farmers of the corn belt who finish beeves for the packing-house market.

Mr. Kinzer announced that transfers of pure-bred Hereford cattle recorded during July, 1922, exceeded by 62 per cent the number of transfers made in July, 1921. Herefords are beef cattle.

"The number of transfers we record is the index to the volume of purchases being made by breeders of Hereford cattle," said Mr. Kinzer. "If transfers run light, it means that business is dull. But an increase of 62 per cent during July is evidence that the pure-bred cattle industry is getting back on its feet and that a feeling of security and confidence in the future is felt by all interests concerned in the production of beef for the American dinner table."

July transfers of Herefords this years compared favorably with July of the "boom" years of 1918, 1919 and 1920, according to Mr Kinzer, and the volume for the last month runs only about 2,000 less than the record year of 1918. This is regarded by cattlemen as most favorable.

"The up-swinging cattle markets at the stockyards are also cause for confidence among breeders and feeders," added Mr. Kinzer. "During the last three months the market for killing cattle has shown a pronounced trend upward, reaching the extreme top of the year at $10.85 per hundredweight in Chicago during the last week of July. This is most auspicious when compared with the eight and nine dollar prices which prevailed during the early months of the year.

"Demand for pure-breds has increased to the point where it is difficult to supply enough suitable bulls and breeding cows for current requirements. Prices of pure-breds are just starting on their upward trend after the recent deflation, which means that now is the time for farmers and new breeders to enter the purebred business."

MONROE COUNTY TO STAGE ANNUAL FAIR

TOMAH, Wis.—"The biggest and best Monroe county Fair" opens in Tomah August 23 and closes August 25. A feature of the Fair is the flying circus put on Thursday, including parachute drops, aeroplane wing walking, air craft races, automobile and air craft races, loop-the-loop and other stunts. Wednesday is Sparta day, and the largest exhibit of pure-bread live stock ever shown in Monroe county will pass in review before the grand stand and ribbons be awarded. All the calf clubs in the county will complete for prizes. A keen rivalry between eastern Monroe county and the western district is on. Races of every sort including horse and pony races, running races, Shitland pony races, will occur every day, also daily baseball games. Track records will be smashed in this locality as stable reservations have already been made for some of the fastest thoroughbreds in the game. The Tomah and Sparta bands will play every afternoon at the Fair grounds and every evening free concerts will be given on the streets of Tomah. Every farmer in the county has been urged to exhibit not only stock but farm produce and canned fruits and vegetables. This is the only Fair in the county and a record attendance is anticipated.

WATCH THE BIG ONES

Attention is again called to the Tribune's big crop contest which is to be held before and during the Interstate fair here next September.

The Tribune is offering a cash premium of five dollars for each of the following: The longest corn stalk, the biggest watermelon, the biggest potato and the biggest apple. The size of the three latter will be judged by their weight, on the principle that the heaviest is the biggest.

Watch this column carefully from week to week for information concerning the contest, but do not bring in exhibits until notified. A date will be set for bringing them in later.

The entries in the Tribune big crop contest will be placed on exhibition at the Interstate fair.

CANDIDATES IN LAST LAP OF PRIMARY RACE TO COVER PRACTICALLY WHOLE STATE

BOB, GANFIELD, MORGAN, BLAINE IN HOT FINISH

La Follette Devoting Much Time to Defense of His War Record

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Candidates in the Wisconsin general election primary campaign swung into the last leg of the political race with crowded speaking schedules calculated to carry them through every section of the state before voting day, September 5.

United States Senator R. M. La Follette, switched his campaign for re-election from the central counties up through the north, continuing his attack upon trusts, newspapers, the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill, the Esch-Cummins law and special interests. Defense of his war record is occupying a large part of the senior Wisconsin senator's talks.

Ganfield Follows Rival

Dr. W. A. Ganfield, his opponent in the republican primary, the only one in which a campaign of importance is being waged, is closely following Senator La Follette, presenting to his audiences what he says is a program of construction. His plea to the voters is continuing to be made on a promise to work for labor and agricultural legislation that will afford the people of the country substantial benefits. Criticism is levelled at his opponent on the La Follette war record, and his opposition to many proposals and acts of the republican party.

Attorney General William J. Morgan is centering his fight against Governor J. J. Blaine, the La Follette progressive candidate in the republican gubernatorial contest, an attack against the record of the governor during his first term. Touring through the central counties on an itinerary that carries him down to the southern section of the state during the latter part of the week, the attorney general is charging that Governor Blaine is making false representations to the voters by claiming to have restored millions of dollars in taxes for the state through investigations of corporation income reports.

Hits Pardon Record

In his speeches, confined to state issues, he also asserts that the governor in saying that he will pardon all ex-service men in Wisconsin prisons has given this expression to "cover up" the fact that he has pardoned an excessively large number of prisoners during the past year.

Governor Blaine Monday speaking at Hortonville replied to the claims of Attorney General Morgan with the assertion that his efforts in securing funds for the tax commission has made it possible to investigate corporation income returns to recover back taxes.

The governor is urging that the federal government take over and operate coal mines and coal carrying railroads during the period of the present emergency. He attacks the committee of forty-four, backing Dr. Ganfield and Attorney General Morgan, charging that they have a $120,000 "slush fund" which they are using in the campaign to defeat Senator La Follette and his ticket.

The prohibition issue is bobbing up each day of the campaign through the activities of Mayor A. C. McHenry of Oshkosh, the third candidate for governor avowedly wet. He is urging repeal of the Volstead act and the eighteenth amendment.

Woman's Vote Sought

The Wisconsin anti-saloon league is stressing the prohibition issue by its activities in support of Attorney General Morgan, and in opposition to Governor Blaine. From all factions in the republican party comes an appeal to the women voters to participate in the coming primary election. Senator La Follette and his wife, campaigning in his behalf, are urging that women exercise the right of franchise.

Only by a thorough representation of women at the polls can the primary law be effectively carried out, candidates are saying. It is claimed by the La Follette faction that its opponents are maneuvering to bring about amendment to the primary that will nullify its effect.

FINANCIAL OUTLOOK CAUSING POLITICAL UNREST IN PORTUGAL

Press Calls on Government to Put Stop to Speculation Which is Forcing Down Exchange

LISBON.—A rate of exchange alarmingly low and prices of foodstuffs exorbitantly high have conspired to make the cost of living in Portugal a serious problem. And profiteering as an additional factor cannot be overlooked.

Several highly placed state functionaries have been arrested and jailed, charged with conspiracy and the holding of secret meetings, which is an indication of an underlying political unrest. It is felt in some quarters that a military movement is in preparation, to act in case of a fresh outburst of the turbulent elements which brought about the political assassinations of last October.

The press is clamoring against the economic condition of the country, and Seculo vehemently exhorts the government to put an end to the speculation to which it chiefly attributes the increasing fall in exchange. The minister of finance is trying to raise an internal loan and has had conferences with several of the most prominent Portuguese bankers to this end. His efforts have not so far been successful.

One of the factors said to contribute to the situation is that, although exportation amounts to several million pounds, all this money is deposited in foreign banks instead of being paid out in the country. At the same time gambling in exchange is being carried on in a barefaced manner. In London banks alone there is said to be over 25,000,000 Portuguese pounds which would greatly improve the rate of exchange if left here. The constant arrest of officers and civilians and the fact of the troops having to keep within barracks to be ready at a moment's notice, adds to the general unrest.

Epoca directs attention to the statement of the British premier, Lloyd George calling upon the nations which owe England money to pay interest charges in October. This debt amounts to over 5,000,000 pounds, and the paper asks if the interest is to be paid when due.

REGULAR AIR SERVICE IN UNITED STATES NOW

BY DUDLEY SIDDALL

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—For years they've been telling us about "the future of aviation." Now it's here.

You can fly 110 miles by hydro-aeroplane between Detroit and Cleveland. Two planes each way daily, except Sunday, at 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. A five-hour train ride, or an all-night boat ride, cut to 90 minutes!

This is the first airway of its kind in the world. Never before, anywhere, has an unsubsidized, non-stock jobbing, amply financed concern operated planes on a regular twice-daily schedule between important cities. The planes go by the clock, loaded or empty. No government departments, no quasi-public organizatiins, no public spirited citizens are asked to help pay the bills. It's a private enterprise, for private gain—or rather, private loss, so far.

To date it is estimated that I. M. Upperen of New York, sole owner of Aeromarine Airways, Inc., has lost $500,000 in his efforts to develop air passenger travel in the United States. Yet, by opening the Detroit & Cleveland line, he demonstrates his firm belief that he can educate the American public to use hydro-aeroplanes as fearlessly as it uses trains and boats.

Must Beat Fear

Fear! That's the thing Aeromarine Airways has to beat before it can make air travel a commercial success.

"We can beat it," said C. F. Redden, New York, president of Aeromarine Airways, Inc. "We have beaten it in our lesser unscheduled operations between New York and Atlantic City; between Key West and Havana; between Miami and Palm Beach; and elsewhere. But it costs an awful lot of money. And it's going to cost more before we succeed. Nevertheless, when we finally saw one of our seven lines show a profit on a season's business, we determined that the time had come to enlarge upon all previous air travel services. This D. & C. line is the result. Here you see aerial travel lifted out of a pleasure thrill for wealthy vacationists and made into a service designed primarily for business men to whom time is money."

There's only one way to beat fear—safety. No expense has been spared to make Aeromarine's big fliers safe. In three years they have carried thousands of passengers hundreds of thousands of passengers hundreds of thousands of miles without one single injury to a passenger.

The fare is $40 each way by plane, as against $7.50 first-class by train. Ten passengers can be carried on each flier.

But when the public is educated to forget fear, and begins patronizing the service voluntarily, fares will come down to around $25 the round trip.

What's it like to fly? Well, you're scared when you enter the commodious "limousine" cabin and seat yourself in one of the roomy upholstered chairs for the first time.

But the fear vanishes a minute after the plane takes off. After that there's no more "sensation" than riding in a Pullman. Not as much, for there are no jolts, no dust, no sense of speed. Mostly the planes keep between 25 and 200 feet above the water, but at a thousand-foot elevation nobody suffers from height dizziness.

When I returned from my first flight, I boasted about it, as if I'd done something big. All first trippers, they tell me, are like that. But later—

My second flight was a good deal of a bore. The thrills were gone. I read newspapers all the way across on my third trip, much as do ferry boat commuters.

"Out of the thousands of passengers we have carried," says President Redden, "I've never heard of one to suffer any physical discomfort after getting into the air.

Cotton in Ears

The only drawback is the roar of the motors, for the passengers always prefer to keep the windows open except during rainstorms. Cotton in the ears is the only special equipment needed. Straw hats don't blow off, nor do the passenger's clothes require the application of a porter's brush at the end of the journey. You're not strapped in, wrapped up, or even required to stay in your chair if you first get the "conductor's" permission to change your seat or get a glass of water. Hand baggage is carried free.

The crew consists of a pilot and two mechanics. The ship is driven by two 400-horsepower Liberty motors. After every 100 hours' work they are overhauled, and they're practically junked after five or six overhauls.

Experiments are now being made by the Detroit News radio broadcasting station to furnish radio concerts to the passengers as they fly across Lake Erie.

If the D. & C. venture works out to show a gain, President Redden says that similar regularly scheduled service will be inaugurated between other water-connected cities by Aeromarine Airways. Probabilities are that Boston and New York; Chicago, Milwaukee and northern resorts; New York and Albany; Buffalo, Rochester and Toronto; Santa Barbara, Los Angeles and San Diego; Seattle and Vancouver; New Orleans, Galveston, Vera Cruz and Tampico; St. Louis, Cincinnati and New Orleans, will come in for early consideration as Aeromarine Airway terminals.

TRAVELING LIBRARY BEATS ALL RECORDS FOR AIDING READERS

In Past Year 131,750 Volumes Shipped to all Parts of the State

MADISON, Wis.—All previous records made by the traveling library department of the library commission have been broken during the past fiscal year according to data compiled this week by Harriet C. Long of the commission. During the past year 131,750 volumes have been shipped into every section of Wisconsin.

Of these volumes, 34,298 were loaned in 598 collections to supplement the resources of local public libraries. Librarians of the state have made constant use of the privilege of borrowing individual books by parcel post, thus opening to their patrons a larger book service than the local library afforded.

The public schools were active distributing centers. The report shows that 45,526 books were loaned to school authorities. Collections of books were sent to 1,351 communities of the state, which indicates that the vast majority of the voting precincts of the state were book borrowers.

The volume of books that is being sent into the state is increasing every year. During one month alone 3,800 pieces of first class mail were sent out by the department and during the fiscal year 1,576 boxes and 17,690 packages of books were shipped into the state. During the year 30,024 books were loaned to individuals of the state on 5,918 requests. The parcel post system of loaning books to individuals of the state has been given a strong impetus during the past year and indications are that 50,000 books will be loaned by this method in the coming year.

What Would You Do?

My sister's oldest child is a girl. When she was six years old, twins were born. Soon after this event the family came home for a visit. One day when there was company and we were all seated at the dinner table, Mary's childish voice rang out loud and clear: "Aunt Josephine, what would you do if you had twins?"

U. S. SHOULD DRILL 100,000 CIVILIANS YEARLY--HARDING

President Tells Citizen-Soldiers they Make Fine Force for Peace

ASSERTS NATION HAS NO PLANS FOR AGGRESSION

Praises C. T. C. Men for Showing Sense of Duty to U. S.

WASHINGTON.—President Harding in an address here Monday to citizen soldiers from Camp Meade, Md., declared he favored military training for more than 100,000 civilians annually, not for any prospective aggressive warfare but to preserve peace.

After reviewing the civilian troops on the Ellipse, adjacent to the White House grounds, the president called attention to the fact that 28,000 civilians were afforded training this summer, compared with 11,000 last year. The president said the review had given him new confidence and added that there was not a thought in America for armed warfare, the nation being concerned only in preserving peace of the world.

No Plan of War

"I could not allow the opportunity to pass without a word of felicitation and congratulation," the president said. "You have afforded us this morning a most impressive and reassuring spectacle. You are citizens of a republic wholly devoted to peace. There is not a thought in America of armed warfare. There is not a design on the part of your country to carry on an armed campaign in any direction.

"We are concerned only with peace and the security of peace and I like to think that this great republic, reducing its regular army in accordance with its ideals, can have the assurance that comes to it with such a spectacle as you have given us this morning. I congratulate you with all my heart.

Disciplined Vacation

"It is a fine thing for the young manhood of America to turn from the ordinary engagement of the vacation season to study of military service and training for service. You have benefited by learning discipline. You have benefited as all America might well benefit by learning a little more impressively the obligations of the citizen to his country.

"There is new assurance; there is new confidence; there is new belief in the perpetuity of this American republic when one can stand as I have stood this morning and noted such a company of ready volunteer defenders as you have shown us in this review. Again my congratulations and my gratitude for your country."

RICHARD WAGNER'S PIANO COMING TO AMERICA

The piano of Richard Wagner may come to America. A music-loving American soldier, Robert Prosser, now living in New York at 82 Washington place, discovered the Wagner piano, forgotten for many years, in the home of a Berlin music teacher, Theobald Guenther.

Two generations before, Guenther had taught in the family of Bechstein, the piano manufacturer. In 1874, when Bechstein secured possession of the piano from Wagner, he offered it to the teacher of his children.

By what arguments the young American persuaded the old music teacher to part with his cherished possession is not known. He made careful research and holds documents establishing the piano's rights.

JUDGE PROPOSES LAW TO SEIZE AUTOS IN SPOONERS' TROUBLES

MADISON, Wis.—A bill calling for confiscation of automobiles in which illicit "spooning parties" are held, will be introduced in the next session of the legislature, Judge A. O. Stolen of the Dane county superior court declared.

"Drastic measures must be taken to stamp out the menacing influence of the automobile on the morals of young men and women," the judge asserted. "The wheels of this court are clogged with cases of boys and girls who have gone wrong and I can safely say that 85 percent of these cases are traceable to automobiles.

"We have laws aimed at the moonshine evil and the disorderly dance, but the hands of enforcement officers are still tied when it comes to the automobile," he said in discussing the proposed law.

U. S. COURT HOLDS PANDOLFO SENTENCE TO PEN MUST STAND

Ten-year Stretch and Fine of $4,000 Affirmed for Misuse of Mails

CHICAGO, Ill.—Sentence of Samuel C. Pandolfo, formerly head of the Pan Motor company of St. Cloud, Minn., to ten years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $4,000 on conviction of a charge of using the mails to defraud, was affirmed Monday by the United States circuit court of appeals.

The government prosecution in United States district court, more than a year ago was based on the sale of stock through the mails. It was charged that Pandolfo had represented the company as having assets of $2,000,000 and that tractors actually are being built and sold. More than $1,000,000 was alleged to have been realized by stock sales throughout the country.

Witnesses from many cities appeared against Pandolfo and the trial lasted several weeks. A jury found Pandolfo guilty, but an appeal was taken.

It was alleged by the government that the company was not actually building and selling tractors, although there was evidence that a few models had been turned out. The company's circulars mailed virtually from coast to coast represented that the tractors were being sold at $1,485 each.

RED CROSS INCREASES SWATOW RESCUE FUND BY ANOTHER $10,000

WASHINGTON.—An appropriation of $10,000 from national funds of the American Red Cross has been made to assist work already undertaken by its representatives in China in behalf of the victims of the recent typhoon at Swatow, Chairman John Barton Payne announced Monday. The China central committee, representing all American Red Cross chapters in China has been carrying on relief operations among survivors.

CHINESE FEMINIST MARTYR

Miss Alice Lee, one of the first Chinese women to become a feminist, and a pioneer in the movement to have women's feet unbound, is the daughter of the Chinese minister of education and, is one of the many orientals enrolled at Columbia college. She graduated from the American school in China and became interested in newspaper work.

"In Tienstin, while I was doing this work, I met Miss Chu King, an older woman and together we founded a magazine for women, the name of which in English would be the Woman's World. Miss King was the business manager of this magazine and furnished the funds and I was the editor. While it was ostensibly a magazine devoted to women's interests, this cloaked a deeper purpose for it was really an organ of the revolution. Miss King was not only engaged in the management of this paper, but was actively engaged in working with the revolutionaries in Hong Chow. At last our activities were discovered by the government.

"I was in Tienstin at the time and Miss King was in Hong Chow. Of course, we were frightened, but we stood fast by our principles. One terrible morning word reached me that my friend, Miss King, had been arrested the night before and thrown into prison. Even before I received this information she was dead, for without trial they took her out and beheaded her. She was the first woman martyr to shed her blood for her country and for the republic."

LUMBER FROM SUGAR MILL WASTE

For twenty-five years many scientists have been working on the problem of finding some practical usage for bagasse, the cane fibre as it comes from the sugar mills after the juice has been extracted. It is produced in enormous quantities in the sugar-making sections. Professor C. E. Monroe, inventor, of Washington, D. C., has finally discovered a practical use for this material in the manfacture of building board. It is estimated that there is enough sugar cane fibre available within a radius of fifty or sixty miles of the plant at New Orleans to make 200,000,000 square feet of new product annually.

The product weighs but six-tenths of a pound per square foot in one-half inch thickness, which makes it much lighter than any wood lumber. It can be handled and sawed just like ordinary lumber. Its color is a pleasing shade of tan.

It has been shown as a result of tests that building with this lumber will result in a saving of at least one-third of the fuel ordinarily used, due to its insulating qualities which prevent the passage of heat or cold.

Greater New York is lighted by 78,200 street lights. Of these 67,803 are electric and 10,575 gas lamps. Gasoline lamps make up the total. # FRENCH ISLAND IS SCENE OF ANOTHER SCRAP OVER FARM

Mrs. Jackson Has Otto Sordahl of Viroqua Arrested, Charging Assault; Case Settled

French Island, scene of many quarrels, squabbles and fusses over pigs and chickens and cows, was the scene last week of another quarrel in which farm products was concerned.

Mrs. Mabel Jackson, who with her husband, lives on a farm leased by Guy Ellis, swore out a warrant for the arrest of Otto Sordahl of Viroqua, charging him with assault and battery. Sordahl who was visiting Ellis, and another man, went to the Jackson place to get some produce. The Jacksons were not home, so Sordahl began to gather things together. The Jacksons returned and not knowing Sordahl, ordered the two strangers off the place. An altercation followed in which Mrs. Jackson claims she was struck. Jackson then made for a pitchfork and Sordahl and his companion left the place.

Albert Wolfe, attorney for Mrs. Jackson, had a civil warrant issued for Sordahl's arrest, seeking $200 damages. A forthwith warrant was issued by Judge C. W. Hunt, at Wolfe's request and Sordahl taken into court. He pleaded not guilty and through his lawyer, Q. H. Hale, demanded a jury trial. This was Saturday morning. The trial was set for Saturday at 3 p. m. When court convened in the afternoon Hale and Wolfe announced a settlement had been reached and the case was dismissed.

Public Debate

SLANDER

Editor, Tribune:

I cannot refrain from writing this little article, knowing the great injustice being done every day by this blighting, poisonous wind, called "Slander."

It searches all corners of the world for victims; it sacrifices the high, the low, the rich, the poor, matron and maid, the living and dead, but delights most in destroying worth and victimizing innocence. It leaves its path marked with filth of malice, and the scum of falsehood. It is a melancholy reflection upon human nature, to see how small a matter will put the ball of scandal in motion. Ofttimes one is thoughtlessly indiscreet. A mere hint, a significant look, a mysterious countenance, a jesting word directing attention to a particular person often gives an alarming impetus to this little fire. A mortal wound is inflicted on one innocent; perhaps by one who had no ill will, or desire to do wrong in any case.

There is a sad inclination in our fallen natures, to listen to the retailers of petty scandal. With many it is the spice of conversation.

Without any intention of doing essential injury to a neighbor, a careless remark, relative to some minor fault, may be seized by a babbley, and as it passes through the babbling tribe, each one adds to its bulk and gives its color a darker hue, until it assumes the magnitude and blackness of base slander.

Few of us are without visible faults; most of us are at times inconsistent. Upon these faults and mistakes, petty scandal delights to feast, any are led to think there is game when there is only thin air.

An unjust and unfavorable remark against a person of unblemished character ofttimes gathers force as it is rolled through babble-town, to assume the dignity of a problem, and before truth can get her shoes on, a stain deep and damning, has been stamped on an innocent victim by an unknown hand.

To trace slander back to its birth is often impossible, so some minds and dispositions accomplish their destiny by increasing our misery, and making us more discontented and unhappy.

Oh! would we could all shun evil speaking and say nothing to inflict a wound on others' reputations.

They may be wrong but are often the result of misunderstanding, or partial disclosure of facts. Wait and learn the whole truth before you decide; then believe what evidence compels you to and no more. We are nearer the truth in thinking well of persons than ill.

Our sinful natures keep our eyes half closed to the good in humanity, but wide open to the ill. How much better if we believed but half the ill, and twice the good said of our neighbor.

There is, we all know, a natural inclination in most of us, a sort of an inhuman pleasure, in pelting others with stones. Our right hand aches to throw them.

This seems only human nature in the rough, but there are many who never get out of the rough, but seem to evince pleasure in making others smart.

Hawks and tigers delight in rending the breast of a robin or devouring an innocent lamb, so if Christianity has not cut off the claws, we are inclined to want to scratch someone. If we are true Christians there will be no disposition to stone our neighbors, even if at fault.

Slander, surely is a cancer of the soul that must be cut out or burned out, or purged out of the blood or it will kill us.

Yes, we all fall short, but let's think it over before we indulge in slander. A North Side Subscriber.

OHIO COAL MEN POOL ALL COAL ON LAKES

Fight to Prevent too Much Coal Going to Northwest

MADISON, Wis.—J. D. Morrisey, representing the Wisconsin fuel committee, left for Washington Monday to determine what has become of the priority coal supposed to have been allotted and shipped to this state.

The Wisconsin fuel committee again Monday was without word of the 50,000 tons of coal which it had been informed would be on the docks last week, nor had it heard anything concerning the 400,000 tons said to be available for the present week.

Want Half of Coal

Mr. Morrisey before he left for Washington attended a meeting of federal fuel authorities at St. Paul, where he said decision was made to recommend the national administration that 50 per cent of the coal of the northwest be allotted to the head of the lakes and fifty per cent to Lake Michigan ports. This plan will probably be carried out when the fuel arrives, the state committee said.

At its meeting Monday, the fuel committee discussed routing matters in the absence of information concerning coal which it will distribute when available.

Plan Coal Pool

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—War time priority regulations on coal shipments involving the pooling of all lake shipments from Cleveland to the northwest were determined upon at a meeting of Cleveland coal operators and shippers, at a meeting here Monday, according to H. H. Griggs, manager of the Ore and Coal exchange.

Definite arrangements will be made and reported at another meeting Wednesday by a committee appointed at Monday's session.

It is believed a determined fight will be made at Wednesday's meeting by local operators against having too large an apportionment of Ohio mined coal for the northwest and other points outside the state.

DIPLOMATIC POSTS NO LONGER MERELY POLITICAL REWARDS

Earnest Effort Made to Pick Men of Experience and Ability Says Report of Reform League

WASHINGTON.—Long strides toward removing diplomatic posts from rewards for political service have been made during President Harding's administration according to a report issued by the committee on foreign service of the national civil service reform league.

The report says the first year seems to indicate that an earnest effort has been made to retain the services of men of experience and to appoint to diplomatic posts persons with qualifications in diplomacy."

The committee reports that five of the nine ambassadors appointed by President Harding were men with previous experience in diplomacy. Six of the eight ministers now serving in the diplomatic corps, the committee found, were appointed on the basis of their experience and eight were promoted during previous administrations for were retained by President Harding.

Four ambassadors, sixteen ministers, two agents and consul generals and one minister resident and consul general appointed by President Harding, the report says, were persons without any previous diplomatic experience.

"While many of the twenty-three appointees made of persons without previous diplomatic experience consist as a recognition of political obligations, the report states, 'the rest of such appointments is largely ruled by the present administration's contract basically with the people of the first year of other administrations, namely, that the highest qualifications and one devoted to the most principles.'

The committee reported a still better showing was unequaled record of adherence to the 'merit system' in its examination of appointments in the consular service. There has been during the first fifteen months of the present administration, the report says, 'but a single exception to the rule requiring appointments through examinations in the consular service.'

It is worthy of special notice, the report says, that present administration 'to a greater extent than any other' has chosen as assistants to the secretary of state men trained in the foreign service.

FILMLAND

RIVOLI TODAY

Betty Compson, Paramount star of "The Little Minister" and "The Green Temptation," and Tom Moore, known for his romantic characterizations, is a new but welcome combination in Penrhyn Stanlaws' newest production "Over the Border," which was finely presented at the Rivoli Theater yesterday.

This story of the love of Sergeant Roberts, of the "Royal Mounted," for Jen, who is the daughter of a bootlegging moonshiner, has many moments of high drama. Miss Compson makes the most of its opportunities. Produced as a Paramount picture it is superb in cast and filmed scenes, dramatic settings which thrill with their beauty.

LOVE POWER SHOWN IN NEW MAYO FILM

Stephen accepted as his wife, and feeling that her coldness was due to his inferior personality and lack of a manner, a husband assumes Eldon Elliot himself. His clothes and habits mystified a hobo that was marked ashore by ocean waves.

The wife was grief-stricken. She discovered this man had meant more to her than anything else.

A year later she was being strenuously courted by a man strangely familiar and met a handsome, likeable young man, with all the finer points of culture and a character that her departed husband had lacked.

It will be seen today and Tuesday at the Majestic Theater as a Universal film play, "The Man Who Married His Own Wife," starring Frank Mayo.

RIVOLI TUESDAY

Better to be safe than sorry. So when Mary Miles Minter was scheduled to do a Realart picture containing a lot of "water stuff," plaids and fancy, fresh and salt-water swimming and diving, her director, Frank Lloyd, employed Walter Cann, Southern California champion trick swimmer, to go with the company and be always handy in case

Summary — Two base hits: J. Weigent, Franzini; home runs: Haus, Moore; sacrifice hits: J. Weigent, B. Angell (2), P. Williams, Smith; double plays: H. Angell to Smith; Jaeger to Merlo to Eiken; stolen base: Crawford; base on balls: Crawford 2, Jaeger 4; struck out: Crawford 8, Jaeger 5; left on bases: Montagues 9, Caledonia 5; hit by pitcher: Crawford; Merlo, Jaeger; Fitzke.

Clouting Jaeger for timely safe hits, the Montague baseball club defeated Caledonia Sunday afternoon 8 to 5 at Copeland park. The game looked bad right at the start when the visitors piled up a three run lead in the first inning, but Crawford steadied down and succeeded in holding his opponents scoreless until the ninth, when they scored two more runs.

The weather was ideal for a ball game, and several thousands of people were present to see the locals take their second game of the season from Caledonia. The first game played at Caledonia on August 13 resulted in a 2 to 1 victory for the candy makers after Safford had singled and Smith had pounded out a homer in the last half of the ninth.

Haus Hits Homer

Meyer was the first man to face Crawford Sunday. He grounded out, Weigent to Smith. Merlo took one in the back and Till singled. With two on base, Nicky Haus, Caledonia third sacker, lined one out for four bases. P. Williams struck out and A. Wheaton knocked an easy grounder to Crawford.

For La Crosse Fitzke and Weigent grounded out to the second baseman and Franzini flied out to center. The Montague's first score came in the third inning. Moore struck out and Crawford walked, going to second when Till let a pitched ball go by. Fitzke walked. Weigent grounded out to Haus. Fitzke went second when the first baseman missed Haus' peg and to third when Merlo muffed the throw from first. Crawford scored. Franzini flied out.

Double Plays

Short work was made of both sides in the fourth frame. Haus, first up for Caledonia, grounded out. P. Williams singled and A. Wheaton hit into a double play, H. Angell to Weigent to Smith. For the locals Safford singled and H. Angell knocked a grounder at Jeager who engineered another double play, Jaeger to Merlo to Eiken. B. Angell was out when H. Williams made a hard chase into the crowd along the left field line and caught his long foul.

Five in Seventh

The Montagues came across with five runs in the seventh after H. Angell had singled and B. Angell advanced him a base with a well placed bunt. Moore hit a long fly to the center fielder who dropped the ball but caught Moore going second. H. Angell started for the plate and was safe when the catcher dropped the ball. Crawford walked and Fitzke was hit by a pitched ball. Johnny Weigent busted up the ball game with a hard hit double, scoring Crawford. Franzini doubled scoring Fitzke and Weigent and Safford connected for a single, scoring Franzini. Smith flied out to right field.

No Caledonia man saw first in the beginning of the eighth, and H. Angell started the last half with a single, going second when the left fielder booted the ball around. B. Angell sacrificed him to third. Moore stepped to the plate and knocked a terrific drive out of the lot for a home run. Crawford and Fitzke fanned.

Caledonia started a rally in the ninth, but were held to two runs by the locals. Till struck out and Haus was safe on Safford's error. P. Williams walked; Wheaton singled, scoring Haus. P. Williams was tagged out at third, but H. Williams singled, scoring Wheaton. Eiken flied out to Fitzke.

Father Runs Baseball Team of Nine Sons

THE SKILLICORN BALL CLUB

WATSONVILLE, Cal.—The Skillicorn baseball team of this city is all in the family.

"Pop" Skillicorn raised these nine brothers on the hat, as it were. A baseball fan of many years' standing, "Pop" decided that it was not mere accident that Fate had decreed him nine boys. It's said to be the only all-brother team in the west. And they're all grown up except Elmer, 11, who plays right field. When, in a few years, he's old enough to be a real figure the Skillicorn brothers will be a combination hard to beat.

The team consists of William, 33; George, 30; Charles, 29; James, 26; Archie, 24; Eddie, 20; Kenneth, 18; Amos, 17, and Harry 11.

Also there are four girls in the family, who go along as rooters.

NELSONS LOSE GAME TO WINONA LEGION, 5 TO 3, ON SUNDAY

Schultz Defeats Former Team Mates; Legions Touch Fehr for Fourteen Hits

The Nelsons lost their game with the American Legion at Winona Sunday afternoon by the score of 5 to 3. Schultz, one time member of the Nelson club, tossed the Winona nine to victory, striking out 11 of his former teammates and letting them down with nine safe hits, while "Lefty" Fehr, who appeared in the box in the Nelson uniform, was touched for fourteen safe bingles.

The Nelsons came through with the first runs of the game when Woll, first sacker for the Clothing company, lined out a three bagger, scoring Fehr and Shields.

Corbett connected with the first ball pitched in the fourth inning for a home run drive. The Winona players hit Fehr pretty freely in the fifth and sixth innings, scoring two runs in each. The Nelsons scored again in the fifth.

Goodman and Corbett led in the hitting for both teams with three hits each out of four times at bat. Shields, Stoneman and Foulds each connected twice for safe clouts.

The next game on the schedule for the Nelsons will be played next Friday at Galesville, when they will meet Whitehall as a special feature of the Trempealeau county fair. Big Benn will pitch Friday's game for the locals.

Reds Wallop Dodgers in Both Ends of Bill

CHICAGO.—New York made it two out of three from Chicago on Sunday by winning the final game of the series here, 5 to 4, before a crowd of 26,000. The three game series was said to have drawn close to 80,000 persons. The Giants won in the seventh when O'Farrell lost a throw from the outfield during a rally by the visitors. Krug started a Chicago rally in the eighth with a home run. O'Farrell walked and Callaghan batting for Kaufman doubled. Jonnard relieved Scott. Terry singled with two out, scoring O'Farrell and Callaghan. Grimes struck out. Grimes scored the first run with his eleventh homer of the season. Score:

ST. LOUIS.—Overcoming a five run lead, the Cardinals on Sunday batted three Philadelphia pitchers hard; taking the last and odd game of the series, 9 to 6. Both teams had three hurlers on the mound. Score:

Two batting rallies off Grimes gave the home team plenty of runs in the first, while Donohue was invincible, except in the second inning when four hits and two errors by Caveney gave the visitors their five runs. The second game was a close battle between Rixey and Cadore. In the tenth inning Burns led off with a double and was sacrificed to third by Daubert. Duncan and Roush were purposely passed, but Fonseca scored Burns with the winning run on a long fly to Wheat. Scores:

This Champion Is Always Ready for Aspirants

CEDAR POINT, O.—There's one American champion who doesn't require prodding from a commission to induce him to defend his title. He'll stake it anywhere, any time, against anybody who is worthy of a chance.

The champ is Newell W. Banks of Detroit. Checkers is his game. He will be here Aug. 7 to 12 for the checker tourney which is one of the annual features in the Cedar Point summer colony. Alfred Jordan, former champ, may be here too.

Banks has held the title since 1913. He was defeated last winter for the world championship by Robert Stewart in Stewart's home town of Glasgow, Scotland. Stewart won two, Banks one, and 37 games were drawn.

Pat Hayes of the City Club, Cleveland, O., under the auspices of which Banks plays, will arrange a title match with Banks for anyone who can show himself to be in the championship class. Banks plays only for purses, as he strongly disapproves of side-betting and its attendant evils.

2 HOMERS BY BABE WHIP WHITE HOSE

Bambino Carried Off Field by Fans When His Home Run Wins 8-7 Battle

NEW YORK.—A dramatic home run by Babe Ruth, with Witt and Bogan on base in the ninth, enabled the New York Americans to make it three straight from Chicago, by a score of 7 to 5. Ruth had a day of ups and downs.

In the first inning he hit a home run with Dugan on base, but handed these two runs back to Chicago in the third when his muff enabled Falk and McClellan to score. Ruth struck out in the third and beat out a bunt in the fifth, only to be caught napping. His second home run in the ninth won the game for New York. At the end of the game a crowd surged on the field and carried Ruth off the field on its shoulders.

Ruth has hit four home runs in the last three days and has advanced to twenty-six. Mays was hit hard in the early innings, but Hoyt, who relieved him, held Chicago scoreless in the last six innings. Center Fielder Strunk of Chicago was put out of the game in the ninth inning for throwing dust at Umpire Hildebrand. Score:
Chicago ..... 202 000 000—5
New York ..... 201 000 102—7
Batteries: Faber and Schalk; Mays, Hoyt and Schang.

Cleveland, 3; Washington, 0

WASHINGTON.—Daniel Boone, a lanky recruit from the Southern association, outpitched the veteran Walter Johnson on Sunday and Cleveland won its third straight game from Washington, 2 to 0, in twelve innings. Boone allowed two more hits than Johnson, but was stronger in the pinches and also won his own game in the twelfth with a single after there were two out. Score:
Cleveland ..... 000 000 000 002—2
Washington ..... 000 000 000 000—0
Batteries: Boone and O'Neill; Johnson and Picinich.

Gasoline in Storage and the Motor Car

MUCH has been said of the enormous stocks of gasoline in storage, but very little has been said of this storage as it compares to the number of cars in commission.

Recent statistics compiled by the American Petroleum Institute comparing the number of motor cars in commission with the amount of gasoline in storage, show that there was less gasoline per car in storage June 1 of this year than at any similar period during the last 5 years, with the exception of 1920.

| Year | Autos reg. Jan. 1 | Stocks June 1 | Gallons per car |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1918 | 4,983,340 | 460,637,479 | 92.4 |
| 1919 | 6,146,617 | 594,035,688 | 96.6 |
| 1920 | 7,558,848 | 577,671,795 | 76.4 |
| 1921 | 9,211,295 | 800,495,787 | 86.9 |
| 1922 | 10,448,632 | 856,607,102 | 82.0 |
| Average 1918 to 1921 . . . | | | 87.2 |

Notwithstanding the fact that the crude oil production is very heavy at this time, the rapid increase in the production of automobiles and other automotive machinery has created a demand which already is greater than the increased supply.

The current output of the several large refineries of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) supplemented by the reserves now on hand, enables the Company to guarantee that the public shall have a steady, dependable supply of Red Crown Gasoline at its command.

Because of its size, its progressive and efficient management, its ample resources and unrivaled facilities, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is able to provide the needful amounts of petroleum products to supply the vast demands made upon it. Its manufacturing facilities are planned to anticipate these needs years in advance and always are ready for service. Its constantly expanding distribution system is growing as the need for this service grows. Even in the remote corners of the 10 states served by this Company, the dark green tank wagon is a familiar and welcome visitor.

No matter how the production of crude oil has fluctuated, no matter how urgent the demand nor how limited the supply, motorists will recall that not once in the most stringent emergencies of the past has the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) through any fault of its own, failed to supply their essential needs. This Company has every confidence that its future record of service will be equally satisfactory.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK.—Apparently anticipating an early settlement of the rail strike, Wall street traders today indulged in another buying demonstration of rail shares at the opening of the stock market. While most gains were of a nominal character new high records for the year were established by St. Paul common and preferred, Southern Pacific, Great Northern pfd., New Orleans, Texas & Mexico, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, and New York, Chicago & St. Louis. Peak prices also were established by Pacific Gas & Electric, Allied Chemical, Brown Shoe, Reynolds Tobacco, and American Sugar. Domestic Oils also were in good demand, Maryland rising 1½ points, with gains of large fractions by Pure Oil and Standard Oil of California. Otis Elevator was up two points and gains of one point each were made by American Beet Sugar, American Woolen, and American Tobacco.

The upward swing gained momentum as the morning progressed. Fifty stocks breaking through to new high records for the year before noon. The active inquiry soon extended from rails to high grade public utilities and industrial shares, equipments, steels, food and amusement issues being particularly prominent. Covering of shorts was a strong factor, but the buying orders also gave indications of a renewed investment demand on the part of outside interests. Gains of 2 to 4½ points were made by Jersey Central, Great Northern preferred, Louisville & Nashville, New York, Chicago & St. Louis first preferred, Ann Arbor, Mexican Petroleum, Westinghouse Air Brake, American Locomotive, Consolidated Gas, Columbia Gas, Pacific Gas, and Electric and Corn Products. Call money opened and renewed at 3¼ per cent.

Traders showed little inclination to remain uncovered in the final hour, the growing investment demand causing extensive buying of popular seasoned stocks by short interests. Shares of coal and grain carrying railroads, oils, and tobaccos were all marked up in the final hour. The closing was strong. Sales approximated $1,000,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO Ill.—Extreme weakness at Liverpool was reflected in the wheat market here today and caused a decline in values during the early dealings. All deliveries went to a new low for the season, the December touching a dollar. Support came mainly from shorts while some stop loss orders were caught on the way down. Receipts of wheat today were estimated at 456,000 bushels. Sales of 400,000 bushels of wheat were made to the seaboard late Saturday and early today with more business in sight. The opening which varied from ⅝c to 1⅜c decline, with September 97¾ to 98c and December $1.00 to $1.00¼, was followed by a slight general advance all around.

Covering by shorts later became general and the market rallied and closed strong, with values showing a net gain of 1¼ to 1⅜c with September $1.00⅞ to $1.01 and December $1.02⅜ to $1.02½.

Corn was weak in sympathy with wheat and on better weather conditions over part of the belt. The opening which was ⅜c to 1c lower, with September 58⅝ to 58½c, was followed by a moderate general rise on all deliveries.

Corn later showed remarkable resistance to selling pressure and closed firm, the finish being up ¼ to ⅞c, with September 59⅛c.

Oats started unchanged to ¼c off, with September 30½c and held near the initial range.

Weakness in grains was reflected in provisions.

MADISON IS READY TO RECEIVE RED ARROW WARRIORS

Plans Completed for Reception of 10,000 Members of 32nd Division, August 26-29

SPECTACULAR GIELD EVENTS TO BE STAGED AT CAMPUS

Major General Haan to Head Parade at Review on Last Day

MADISON, Wis. — Preparations were completed here Monday for the reception for the 10,000 members of the 32nd division who will come trouping into the city the latter part of this week. The reunion will be four days, Aug. 26 to 29.

The city will be turned over to "Les Terribles" for their four-day gathering. At every club, home and business place the latch string will be out to the visitors and citizens will end four months of preparations for the welcome of the veterans.

Not only will the city be given over to the Red Arrow men, but the surrounding lakes, which have brought fame to the "Four Lake City" as a pleasure center, will be at their disposal. Launches, canoes and boats of every kind, will be commandeered for the veterans.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate 10,000 men, who will be quartered in hotels, fraternity houses, university buildings and private dwellings. It will be the greatest gathering ever assembled in the city.

The invasion will start in earnest on Saturday, August 26th, the first day of the reunion. Arriving by train, by automobile and even by airplane, the ex-doughboys will register and make their billeting arrangements on that day. After the preliminaries are over, the men will rendezvous by regiments in the capitol, where they will sing the same songs, tell the same stories and recount past happenings as they did in '17, '18 and '19. Dancing at pavilions on Lakes Mendota and Monona is also on the program.

Memorial exercises will be held Sunday at the capitol square. Forming of a permanent organization, with a central office to handle the affairs of the thirty-second Division association, will be taken up at the business session on Monday.

The greatest of gala days will be Tuesday. Spectacular field events, with the veterans in the rolls of both performers and audience will be staged at Camp Randall, university campus.

As the opening feature of the windup day, the assembled veterans with Major General William G. Haan, commander of the "Fighting Thirty Second," when it drove the enemy back in the bloodiest battles of the war, at the head, will pass in review before Governors Blaine and Groesbeck of Wisconsin and Michigan.

Pinkey Mitchell, Milwaukee lightweight flash, and Billy Hinrichs, St. Paul, have been signed for the main event of the boxing show of thirty rounds to be held in the evening.

President Harding heads the list of honor guests who have been invited to the reunion. He has not been able to determine whether or not he will be able to attend.

MORE BAD CHECKS APPEARING AGAINST MAN AT GALESVILLE

Belief that Bob Hackett of Denver Colo., who is being held by Trempealeau county authorities on a charge of forgery, is the same man who is alleged to have passed a forged check for $25 on H. G. Elfman of Wilson was expressed by Chief H. C. Reibau at Winona.

Mr. Elfman brought in the check after it had been protested, and turned it over to Chief Riebau for investigation. The man who passed the check, according to Mr. Elfman's description, tallies with the description of the man being held in Trempealeau county. Another check is being held by Chief Riebau for $20, which was cashed by a Winona dealer.

Hackett is alleged by Galesville authorities to have forged the name of Hans Larson, a Galesville business man, on three checks totaling $70, two of which were cashed at Trempealeau and one at Winona.

Hackett escaped through the back door of a Galesville residence while City Marshal Koenig waited for him at the front door, after he had been accosted by the Marshal as he was about to leave the city. He was recaptured near Centerville.

CONSERVATION CLUB CONSIDERS CHANGES IN THE GAME LAWS

Important Meeting of Local Organization With State Commission Tuesday Night

The La Crosse Conservation club will attend a hearing at the court house Tuesday night, called by the state conservation commission to consider a closed season on certain fur bearing animals. It is expected that Commissioner Barber will be here to conduct the hearing. Following the hearing the local Conservation club will hold a meeting to consider changes in the fish and game laws proposed at the conference of wardens, sportsmen and members of the state conservation commission in Madison July 11 and 12. H. E. F. Schurz, secretary of the local club, attended this hearing and proposed several of the changes in the laws.

Among the changes suggested were the following:

That the limit on all pan fish be 7 inches with a bag limit of 35 per day.

That all counties have a closed season on rabbits—Schurz.

That boys under 16 years of age be denied the 25 cent trapping permit.

That it is unlawful to have in possession any trammel gill, hoop or any other kind of a net or fish trap unless same is licensed by the conservation commission.

That hook and line fishermen be allowed only one line with one hook for live bait fishing.

That non-resident fishermen have the privilege of making one shipment only of 20 pounds of game fish.

That trolling from a motor boat be prohibited in inland waters and that there be no fishing in a motorboat while the motor is running—Schurz.

That season's kill for prairie chicken and partridge be ten birds.

Requiring every hunter to report his kill of game under his license before another license is issued—Schurz.

That bear be protected.

That sufficient funds be provided to place a warden in every county.

That trout season be opened on April 15, fifteen days earlier, and closed on August 1, to give the trout a chance.

That fur dealers be required to keep records open to the inspection of wardens.

That net fishing on the Mississippi river be carried on under the supervision of a conservation warden, the same as in inland waters.—Schurz.

To abolish the use of set lines in all inland waters in the state.

That the national bag limit on water fowl be reduced from 25 to 15 birds.

That the season on woodcock be opened in Wisconsin.

To prohibit the sale of all game fish taken from any of the inland waters in the state.

To close the season for black bass in outlying waters the same as in inland waters.

That the conservation commission issue buttons to be worn while hunting, instead of cards for licenses.

That deer season be opened in Jackson county east of the Northwestern tracks.

That game wardens be allowed witness fees in court.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With

If you want to keep your child's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

REHEARING FIXED ON ORDER REDUCING TORNADO RISKS

Final Determination of Order Cutting Down Rates to be Made September 25

MADISON, Wis.—Reductions in tornado insurance rates of approximately 25 per cent, and approximating a saving of $150,000 annually to the people of the state, have been halted by an application for a rehearing on the order. Insurance Commissioner Platt Whitman said that under the law this re-hearing must be granted and he has fixed Sept. 25 as the date when the matter will come up for final determination. Should the reduction order of Insurance Commissioner Whitman be sustained persons securing tornado insurance in the interval will be given a refund for the excess under the departmental ruling.

Insurance companies of the state early in the month filed the rule book of rates and practices with the commission. For five years this matter has been hanging fire in the department. Insurance Commissioner Whitman immediately cancelled some of the rules of the companies, as filed in the rule book, and announced a reduction of tornado insurance rates. The companies have rejoined with an application for rehearing and the date has been fixed for Sept. 25. It is understood that the reason for the rehearing application is to introduce certain evidence before the commission upon which an appeal can be made to the courts.

The reduction order of Insurance Commissioner Whitman has many important aspects. It will determine whether the Wisconsin regulatory law is strong enough to permit of a revision of rates of insurance companies by the department. Should it be found that the law is weak, Mr. Whitman will make a recommendation to the next legislature for strengthening the statute.

"It may be well at this time to state that any attempt on the part of the audit bureau of Milwaukee to enforce rules that have been disapproved by the department will meet with drastic action," was the rejoiner of Insurance Commissioner Whitman Monday to the re-hearing application, five years after the law went into effect. "I attempted to secure from the companies the classified experience on tornado insurance but was unsuccessful. The experience on the class as a whole indicates that the rate level is unreasonable. The loss ratio for the past five years has been less than 30 per cent. The department will require that in the future companies keep classified experience of this business so that a more detailed revision of the rates of this form of insurance may be had. My order relating to the book of rules will be strictly enforced."

Paint Creates Prosperity

Save the Surface and You Save All.

The "run down" house (there is one near you) is fast going to ruin merely because the owner unwisely neglects to keep it protected with paint.

It costs more not to paint than to paint. Paint saves the surface and protects the building from sun, rain, frost and varying weather conditions that bring destruction.

Prosperity demands the protection of all exposed surfaces with good paint.

FILLED MILK AND ELECTRIC CASES UP TO SUPREME COURT

MADISON, Wis.—When the supreme court meets on Sept. 12, two of the most important pieces of litigation decided during the past year will again come up for consideration. The first of these will be the filled milk decision. This will be followed by arguments in the electric rate case from Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls district. It has been expected that a motion for rehearing would be filed in the Pullman car case, but so far no move has been made officially.
